

ARE THE ROTHSCHILDS CONTROLLING TRUMP, NOT RUSSIA? MANY LINKS BETWEEN TRUMP TEAM AND ROTHSCHILDS

March 11, 2017

When I was in Ireland in the summer of 2015, I had a chat with son of one of the founders of a very large Irish company, which, in the meantime, has international operations. Over a cup of tea, we discussed the New World Order, and he remarked that American and British freemasons are at war with each other over it.

These two warring factions seem to have a common agenda of private central banks as well as a radical depopulation using wars and bioterrorism, and timed to coincide with bust cycles. Both factions also seem to be into paedophilia, torturing children to death in basements (Pizzagate) and Satanism. So, these two factions are fighting over who will control any one world, totalitarian, fascist government if and when we, the people, are eliminated.

Putting all the pieces of the Trump puzzle together, it looks to me now like the British freemasons, specifically the City of London and the Rothschilds, have put Donald Trump and their team into power in Washington using their leverage with Russian oligarchs as well as with the media they control, including Fox News (Rupert Murdoch), Breitbart (Robert Mercer), Infowars (Rothschild?).

Nat Rothschild's links to Russian oligarchs are well documented, and many of these oligarchs have links to Trump and his team, specifically Mikhail Fridman and Viktor Vekselberg.

Rothschild also openly helped John McCain's bid for presidency, having hosting, together with his father, a McCain fundraiser in London in March 2008.

Might Rothschild not have decided to have another go at installing a shadow government in Washington, this time with the help of Trump and Wikileaks?

The Rothschild's network extends far and wide and includes Alexis Tsipras, who was caught having a secret meeting with Rothschild officials in Paris last month.

Trump's Commerce Secretary Wilbur Ross is a Rothschild banker, appointed head of Cyprus Bank with the help of Russian oligarch Viktor Vekselberg, whose company headed jointly by Mikhail Fridamn obtained a gigantic loan from a Rothschild bank to buy out BP.

In 1996, Vekselberg went into partnership with Fridman's Alfa Group, becoming shareholders in Tyumen Oil Company, or TNK.

Fridman, the head of Alfa Bank, whose mysterious computer pinging of a Trump Tower server is being investigated, borrowed 20 billion from Rothschild investment bank together with his partners, including Viktor Vekselberg, to buy a majority stake in BP in 2012.

Vekselberg also headed the gigantic aluminum firm Rusal together with Oleg Deripaska, a puppet of Rothschild.

Maybe the FBI and CIA could send an official request for information to Putin about any intelligence he may have about irregular bank loans, Wikileaks, Sergej Kislyak and his meetings with Donald Trump, Jared Kushner, Jeff Sessions?

Putin might decide that helping to put Trump, Kushner, Fridman et al in jail in the USA suits his own domestic agenda just fine, and be forthcoming with phone transcripts, bank documents, internet records etc.

Putin could also always leak the information on the internet or send it directly to the FBI offices by email attachment.

The Russian journalist who interviewed me in Laria were very interested in my communications with the FBI. I was able to show them how easy it is to email an FBI office.

For sure, Putin will not want the Rothschild and Deripaska clique group to gain ascendancy in Washington as Rothschild's aim is to oust Putin.

Putin might actually be very happy to see competent patriots who want a sovereign, prosperous America and who are sick and tired of Globalist antics in charge in Washington.

As for the Americans, they will certainly not want puppets of the villainous Rothschild ruining America.

The Rothschilds are said to be behind the totalitarian regimes of the Soviet Union and Nazi Germany.

With every passing day, it becomes clearer that Trump is crook, a liar and a thug. The perfect wanna be dictator.

The America NWO Globalists should stand down and help shore up a government of patriots to avoid the real and present danger of the USA turning into an impoverished Soviet Union style one party state under Trump and his handler Rothschild.

TOO MANY COINCIDENCES? THE MEETINGS OF TRUMP, FARAGE AND ASSANGE AROUND TIME OF THE CIA HACKING TOOLS LEAK

March 11, 2017

The revelation that Nigel Farage has had email contact with WikiLeaks editor Julian Assange has put the spotlight back onto the UKIP leader's secret visit to Assange on Thursday as well as on any role that Donald Trump himself and inner circle may have played in the leak of CIA spy secrets.

Discrediting the US intelligence community would pave the way for Trump to obtain enormous power over the USA, the power in fact, of a dictator.

Just ten days before Nigel Farage visited the Ecuadorian embassy in west London on Thursday, where WikiLeaks editor Julian Assange has been living since he claimed asylum in 2012, he was spotted having a dinner with Trump and his inner circle.

Although Secretary of State Rex Tillerson was also having dinner with his wife at Trump International Hotel that Saturday evening, they were not invited to join Trump, showing just how much closer Farage is to Trump than even his foreign secretary.

Attending also were Trump's closest associates, his daughter Ivanka as well as Jared Kushner who, along with Michael Flynn, had a secret meeting with the Russian ambassador Sergey Kislyak, and another advisor and his wife.

According to the media, Farage also went to the White House before the dinner where it is understood that he met Steve Bannon, the former Goldman Sachs banker and editor of Breitbart, funded by the Mercer family to which Farage also has links.

The only reason why we know Farage was eating with Trump may be a tweet by Benny Johnson, a reporter for Independent Journal Review who happened to be at the hotel and who tweeted a picture of them at the table, although Farage did tweet out another picture over one hour later. Covering his tracks?

The importance of Farage to Trump is highlighted by the fact that he became the first foreign politician to meet Mr Trump following his election.

Trump also suggested that Farage should become Britain's ambassador to the US.

Might Farage not be Trump's envoy of choice in the delicate matter of deciding on the timing and scope of the classified documents that Assange is to leak?

It is reported Farage met with Steve Bannon in the White House and dined with Trump, two men with the highest national security clearances, on Saturday 25th February, an occasion when he could have discussed with them how to discredit the US intel communities stepping up their investigation into their Russia links.

Ten days later, on Tuesday 7th March, Julian Assange in London released the first part of classified information on CIA spying tools and threatened to release more. The timing was clearly designed to support Trump's crusade against the CIA and FBI.

At noon, two days after the release, on Thursday 9th March, Farage was caught coming out of a secret meeting with Assange.

Farage spent around 40 minutes in the building and left accompanied by Christian Mitchell, the head of a radio station LBC, where Farage hosts a regular show.

Spotted by a BuzzFeed News reporter, Farage said he couldn't remember what he had been doing in the building, which makes his visit even more suspicious.

Asked specifically if he had gone to the embassy to meet with Assange, Farage said: "I never discuss where I go or who I see."

Is that something a person with nothing to hide would say?

Given the extent of the surveillance of electronic devices by the CIA, as revealed by the hacks, might Trump and Bannon not have decided it was better to send an envoy in person, specifically Farage, to talk to Assange in London to settle on a plan of leaks?

Bear in mind that Assange himself may also have qualms about leaking more documents given the fact he could face a death sentence in the USA, and he may also need some reassurance that Trump can protect him (he can't).

Given all these coincidences and connections, I think the FBI should question Farage about the nature of his visit and his meetings with Bannon and Trump.
