

MEGYN KELLY Interview Exposes Sandy Hook Hoax

The hyped interview of Alex Jones by Megyn Kelly took an entirely unexpected turn when a Sandy Hook parent confirmed that the book, Nobody Died At Sandy Hook: It was a FEMA Drill to Promote Gun Control, had it right. The revelation took place when Kelly featured Neil Heslin, who claims to have lost a son in the shooting (8:00–8:45).

“I lost my son. I buried my son. I held my son with a bullet hole through his head.”

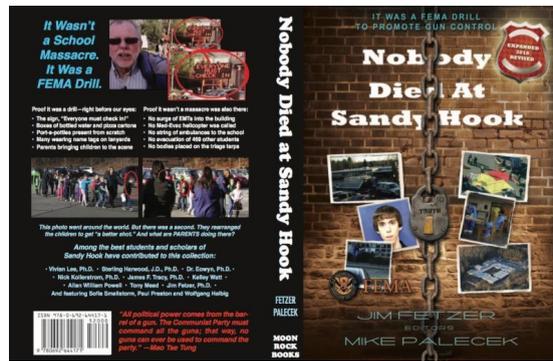

Megyn didn’t know enough to realize that holding his son in his arms could not have happened, as chief medical examiner H. Wayne Carver II explained during a press conference on 14 December 2012.

“We did not bring the bodies and families into contact; we took pictures of them, of their facial features. It’s easier on the families when you do that. We felt it would be better to do it this way. You can control the situation depending on your photographer, and I have very good photographers. There is a time and place for up close and personal in the grieving process but to accomplish this we felt it would be best to do it this way.”

Since Carver reported that the parents were not brought into contact with their dead children, while Heslin claims to have held his son in his arms at the scene, they cannot both be telling the truth. In fact, there is overwhelming proof that both are lying.

NBC perpetrated a hoax on the American public, not recognizing that Heslin had gone “off script”! The 26 surviving families have split between $27 million to $130 million in donations from sympathetic but gullible Americans taken in by the charade.

Softcover, 455 pages, 280 photos (including 50 of the Lanza home being furnished and 50 of the school being refurbished).

Available in B&W ($20) and in COLOR ($30). Autograph and inscription available.

A dozen experts on Sandy Hook, including six (current or retired) college professors, have proven (among many other crucial points):

- that the school was closed by 2008 to avoid upgrading to comply with ADA requirements;
- that it was a two-day FEMA drill on 13-14 December 2012, where we even have the manual;
- that photographs were staged to create the false impression that an evacuation had taken place;
- that the official report fails to tie the alleged shooter to his victims or the weapons he had used;
- that the school board received $50 million for a new K-4 school, when the average cost is only $7 million;
- that they furnished an empty house to serve as the shooter's home and refurbished the school to serve as the stage

Amazon.com banned the 1st edition of this book because it was too explosive, but we have been able to publish the 2nd edition at Moon Rock Books.
