Introduction to Tech Token Network

Defi is a branch of virtual assets aiming to provide decentralised financial solutions to the users searching for funds as an alternative to banks. This protocol is basically a crypto organisation like a digital bank where the user can easily invest money for interest or take loans without any hassle of documentation and bank fees.

Tech token network is a Tron blockchain-based Defi platform with a motive to yield and stake TCN tokens. Our portal is built on a private on-chain business application that works on fungible assets and Tron Scan smart contracts.

We believe in offering a visionary platform to serve the entire blockchain solution right from payment services to business applications. The portal is available providing potential volume, demand, and value. The user can reserve, purchase and trade TCN token which holds a total supply of 270 Million.

In the future, we are planning to collaborate with the best trusted exchange platform- JustSwap and Coinsbit are already tied up. The upcoming platforms are Justlend, Hitbtc, etc. The user can register and hold TCN to become a part of TCN Box governance and can reliably vote to earn in return for development steps.

Lately, our team has been effortlessly working on the blockchain application protocol- TCN Box. It is open access, tokenized, decentralized network that will allow smart infrastructure to develop around a decentralized digital economy. Additionally, our experts and specialized team members are working on few inline projects like:

A private, safe and flexible travel booking and stay app completely designed on on-chain backed-up with Artificial Intelligence to gather decentralized travel agents

To develop and design a decentralized delivery model within the blockchain network that will offer delivery, freight, and courier services right on a global scale.

Our team is preparing to create decentralized financing applications on Tron (TRC) and TCN. This protocol will provide a range of services like decentralized exchange, lending, staking, and farming to yield high token assets.
