

What are fume hoods, and how they are different from laminar hood

The Fume hood is a ventilated room that removes harmful chemical gases and volatile vapors from the laboratory and provides only personal protection. Biological safety cabinets (or biosafety cabinets) use HEPA filters to provide environmental, personnel, and product protection.

Clean Room Space For Rent