WITHOUT A STRUGGLE, THERE CAN BE NO PROGRESS.

Without struggle, there can be no progress How much of that philosophy is based on filters and perspective? What's a struggle for one may not be a struggle for another. This understanding may enable us to ask for help from others instead of continuing to struggle down a dark path leading nowhere We don't know what we don't know, right? The "Teacher and Scholar" relationship is the leadership philosophy of the United States Marine Corps I believe it is relevant in this case b/c although struggles often make us stronger - we can benefit from the advice and guidance from a valued coach/ mentor/ guide/ teacher to give us rudder steers along the way Something to think about... Enjoy your weekend . . .
