Description

The alluringly black granite known as Indian Jet Black adds depth and sophistication to any setting. It has a smooth, sleek appearance with subtle white sparks thanks to the polished surface. Because the pattern varies throughout the surface, the granite's uniformity is not seen.

For creating floors, black granite is ideal. Using it for flooring projects inside and outside is also suggested. Indian Jet Black is also known as Jet Black and Nero Indian Jet and is mined in India. This process of veining, swirling and crystallisation, as well as a beautiful natural palette of colours are formed under intense heat and pressure under the earth. Unlike marbles, granite worktops require easy and low cost care practices. Since granite is a natural stone and the colour of it is determined by nature, it does not typically come in uniform colours.

Resultantly, the Indian Jet Black Granite may exhibit variations in hues and patterns from one slab to the next. Natural stone like granite enhances the beauty and elegance of any living area.
