

Study In usa For Indian Students| Skylark

Studying in the USA is a popular option for Indian students due to the country's high-quality education system, diverse academic programs, and opportunities for research and employment.

To apply for a student visa in the United States, you will normally require the following documents:

- It is necessary to have a passport that is valid for at least six months following your stay in the United States.
- Acceptance to a SEVP-approved school and the completion of Form I-20
- Payment of the SEVIS application fee
- Confirmation page for Form DS-160 and non-immigrant visa application
- Your photo, as well as your phone number, in the format requested.

Some instances of supplemental documentation that may be necessary are as follows:

- Academic preparation documents include transcripts, diplomas, degrees, and certificates.
- Evidence that you have enough money in the United States to meet your living expenses for the duration of your stay. This may entail the following:
 1. Account statements
 2. A financial commitment from a sponsor to cover your accommodation and living expenses.
 3. There is a scholarship program.
- Evidence that once your studies are finished, you will leave the United States. This could take the form of a flight from the US to your home country.

It's also possible that a personal interview at the US embassy or consulate is required.
