Sudeepa in a Tweet noted that Hindi is no more a national language. However later, Ajay took to social media to reply to the actor while taking a dig at him.

Ajay Devgn and Kichcha Sudeepa have been moving all around the web for various reasons. Everything started when the South star tweeted about Hindi movies being named Telugu and Tamil, yet at the same time not making its encouraging. He proceeded to include a Tweet that Hindi is not any more a public language. Anyway later, Ajay took to online entertainment to answer to the entertainer while attacking him. Labeling Kichcha Sudeep, Ajay Devgn stated, "KicchaSudeep मेरे भाई, आपके अनुसार अगर हिंदी हमारी राष्ट्रीय भाषा नहीं है तो आप अपनी मातृभाषा की फ़िल्मों को हिंदी में डब करके क्यों रिलीज़ करते हैं? हिंदी हमारी मातृभाषा और राष्ट्रीय भाषा थी, है और हमेशा रहेगी। जन गण मन । (@KicchaSudeep my sibling, as indicated by you on the off chance that Hindi isn't our public language why do you deliver your primary language films by naming them in Hindi? Hindi was, is and consistently will be our primary language and public language. Jan Gan Man."

Much to his dismay that he will confront reaction for his Tweet. Since the time Ajay Devgn tweeted this, he's getting savaged for not getting the realities right. While a couple of revised him saying Hindi isn't our public language, others asked him to #StopHindilmposition.

To settle the point, Kichcha Sudeep finally said, "I love and regard each language of our nation sir. I would maintain that this theme should rest, as I said the line in a very surprising setting. Mch luv and wshs to you generally. Wanting to seeing you soon." Stay tuned to Koimoi.
