

What is Love and Why is It Important in Your Life ?

RESPECT+CARE+TRUST+SUPPORT = LOVE

Love is the name of offering everything selflessly. But people do not want to earn everything offered in exchange for love. People keep searching for true and selfless love whole life but most of the people do not get true love. Perhaps most of these people will not even know the definition of love.

Love is the only state which has no side effect. Apart from this, every emotion, feeling and thought in the world has a side effect. Only love is such that you can come in the actual moment. It is very important to understand the true meaning of love.

Table of Contents

- What is Love ?
 - Stage of Love
 - How Important is Love to the Body ?
 - Freedom
 - Divine Love vs Worldly Love

What is Love ?

What is Love ?

Love is the name of offering everything selflessly. But people do not want to earn everything offered in exchange for love. People keep searching for true and selfless love whole life but most of the people do not get true love. Whenever it comes to love, only a man and woman's love comes to mind.

Is love only a bond of attraction between man and woman? Love can be from family also, it can be from parents, siblings. Love can be from friends, friends, can also be from country and native land. This love can also be for humanity, it can be for some art or it can also be for this nature.

If love is to be found, then the mind has to be empty. You have to surrender all your desires, your happiness and surrender. This love is the color that fills the juice in life, this love is the thought that brings a smile on the face in a moment. Love is the flower that feeds the garden of the mind.

READ MORE