Should I buy a used laptop or a new laptop?

Used laptops are low cost and nowadays it is trending online in most of the classified sites. Demands of second-hand products are rising day by day because people are getting good quality products at low-cost.

New laptops are obviously good no doubt in that. This doesn't mean that they don't get damaged. Every product has an expiry date but buying a new one also gets damage and the old one also gets damaged.

So, why not buy used laptops and save money and that same savings can be used to repair the same laptop in the future rather than buying a new laptop. My recommendation is to go for used laptops.
