

Reasons that make B.Com the best career choice in this era

Many aspirants choose to go with science and arts streams as career choices. The rest choose commerce as their prime domain to pursue a course. They choose the top B.Com Honor's colleges in UP and pursue a bachelors course for three years. This course is designed to develop a foundation where a student can gather knowledge and skills. He can also find the ideal course to pursue after completing B.Com and choose a brilliant career path accordingly.

The best thing about BCom Hons course is that it provides flexibility to pursue the post-graduation in multiple domains. However, there is an important advantage that doing BCom Honor's provides that the plain BCom does not. You can choose a specialization in the honor's course.

Reasons for choosing B.Com

Commerce is the backbone of the economy of a country. It is required for all kinds of business and industrial development as finance is the lifeline of every such venture. It means that commerce is the platform where all business decisions are made. Hence, every such decision needs the support of knowledgeable commerce graduates and postgraduates.

The scopes for such candidates in any industry are exceptionally high. Apart from this reason, let us check why commerce can be a good career choice.

1. Corporate employment

After studying at the best BCom College in Lucknow, a candidate will be ready to work in any corporate house with the knowledge and training he gets. The 3-year course will train an aspiring candidate to become a part of a corporate team. His industry skills will be employed by the top recruiters.

2. Entrepreneurship

A commerce graduate goes through a stringent curriculum of 3 years where he is taught several subjects. A candidate gets deeper insights into entrepreneurial ventures. He will learn how an enterprise is run and what the aspects of a new business are. The mentors of the B.Com honors colleges in UP prepare the aspirants to become future entrepreneurs and work on their business ideas.

3. High employment rate

As mentioned earlier, all the industries need commerce graduates to work in the finance department and take care of this prime pillar of management. It requires knowledge and skills to work on the financial aspects. All companies need such candidates. This scope offers humongous opportunities to the fresh candidates of B.Com honors colleges in UP. They get better opportunities compared to their experiences throughout their careers.

4. Payscale

The pay scale of the commerce professionals increases with experience. When they become an intrinsic part of a corporate team, the salary drawn is good enough to support a modern family. In fact, the candidates can also pursue advanced courses to become more skilled. When the latest skills are added to a professional profile, the pay scale automatically increases to a considerable extent.

5. Different domains

A degree from the best BCom College in Lucknow will make a candidate eligible to work in banking, insurance, stock market, broking, accountancy, tax, and other finance-related fields. It means one can choose exceptional domains to set a career.

With entry-level salaries averaging between 3 to 4 lakh per annum for a young BCom honors graduate, this course is a good career move. In the past few years, there has been a substantial growth in the commerce graduates who are pursuing MBA after their BCom degree.

Verdict

These are the prime benefits of choosing a career in the commerce stream. The top B.Com honors colleges in UP conduct this course and give ample support during placement drives. The aspirants get the best opportunities to kick-start their careers.