

Putting light on the Canada start up visa processing time

If you are an aspiring business professionals wanting to commence business in Canada if you have and have applied for Canada entrepreneur visa know that it is replaced by the Canada start up visa. This means that if you need to apply for this visa the Canada start up visa processing time is between 12 to 16 months which also then is based upon the precision of the application.