COMPLETE LIST OF ATTEMPTED JEWISH EXPULSIONS, POGROMS, AND RITUAL MURDERS (1,356) (with explanations and sources):

~1,200 B.C. - Egypt - Jews Expelled for having leprosy and causing various seditions/rebellions throughout Egypt, including helping the Hyksos gain and maintain power; Jews venomously deny this basically because it refutes the mythology in their Old Testament; Egyptian historian Apion (1st Century B.C.), who the Jewish Josephus wrote an entire book ('Against Apion') attempting to debunk because he said bad things about Jews and their perfectness; this first entry may in fact need to be omitted due to the fact that it is largely mythistorical and also that it is referring to the Hebrew people who are not exactly the same people as the Jewish people (Tacitus via Apion via Manetho, 'Judaism In Action')

733 B.C. - Samaria - Jews Expelled by King Tiglath-Pileser III (Samuele Artom, 'The Books of Kings and Chronicles', 1981)

722 B.C. - Samaria - Jews Expelled by Sargon II (Samuele Artom, 1981)

586 OR 597 B.C. - Babylon/Judah - Jews Expelled by Nebuchadnezzar II of Babylon for refusing to pay tribute (Michael Coogan, 'A Brief Introduction to the Old Testament', 2009)

411-410 B.C. - Elephantine, Egypt - Jews Expelled in a local uprising because Jews were sacrificing animals sacred to Egyptians (Russell E. Gmirkin, 'Berossus and Genesis, Manetho and Exodus: Hellenistic Histories and the Date of the Pentateuch', p. 29-32; Peter Schafer, 'Judeophobia: Attitudes toward the Jews in the Ancient World', p. 121-135)

358-338 B.C. - Persia - Jews Expelled (attempted); while this expulsion coincides roughly with the apocraphal and mythistorical Book of Esther and its plot of Mordecai and Esther against the Persians and Haman who wants the Jews expelled, there is some historical basis in the expulsion echoed in passages of Hecataeus of Abdera, cited by Josephus, which speak of religious persecutions of the Jews by the Persians around this time during the reign of King Artaxerxes II; additionally, Eusebius speaks about "deportations" of the Jews to Hyrcania on the Caspian Sea, which occurred during the reign of King Artaxerxes III (apocryphal 'Book of Esther'; Josephus, 'Against Apion', I, 22; for Eusebius, see E. Schone's edition 'Eusebii Chronicorum Canonum', 1866, p. 112-113; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 1177-1178)

168 B.C. - Jerusalem - Jews Massacred/self-Deported by Antiochus Epiphanes and his lieutenant Apollonius, Governor of Mysia; afterwards, Antiochus promulgates an Edict forbidding Mosaic Law which was punishable by death (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 18-19)

168 B.C. - Syria - Jews Massacred/Mosaic Law outlawed and punishable by death by Antiochus Epiphanes (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 19)

168 B.C. - Phoenicia - Jews Massacred/Mosaic Law outlawed and punishable by death by Antiochus Epiphanes (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 19)

139 B.C. - Rome - Jews Expelled (along with astrologists) by Gnaeus Cornelius Hispanus for proselytizing, cheating people out of money (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 128; Stephen Mitford Goodson, 'A History of Central Banking and The Enslavement of Mankind', p. 16; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 427; <http://semiticcontroversies.blogspot.co.uk/2013/03/valerius-maximus-on-expulsion-of-jews.html>)

87-86 B.C. - Cyrene, Greece - Jews Expelled/Killed after Jewish uprising (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 141; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 1182-1183)

66-63 B.C - Jerusalem - Jews Expelled after Pompey The Great annexes Judea/takes Jews as slaves to Rome (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 21)

63 B.C. - Samaritan toparchies (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 40)

61 B.C. - Ramathaim, Syria - Jews Expelled (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 28)

61 B.C. - Ephraim, Syria - Jews Expelled (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 28)

44 A.D. - Dora (Greco-Syrian city) - Jews Expelled/Jewish revolt after Greeks put up statue of Emperor Claudius in one of the synagogues (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 196, 247)

45 A.D. - Judea - Jews massacred by Roman procurator Fadus after a Jew 'messiah' named Theudas tries to repeat Moses' parting of the Red Sea (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 259-260)

49-50 A.D. - Rome, Italy - Jews Expelled by Emperor Claudius for "always rioting" (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 210; Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 39)

50 A.D. - Jerusalem - Roman soldier "exposes himself", Jews start riot, Jews begin to stone Roman troops, 20,000-30,000 Jews killed (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 263-264)

51 A.D. - Samaritis, Judea - Jews (Samaritans) start uprising against Rome, Roman procurator Cumanus kills thousands of Jews and burns down multiple Jew villages, expulsion order issued, then withdrawn as Jews enlist the Empress Agrippina and Agrippa (Emperor Claudius' best friend) to "intrigue" at court in Rome in order to get Claudius to reverse expulsion for Jew revolt (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 265-267)

56-57 A.D. - Jerusalem - Jews Expelled (200) following revolt where Roman procurator Felix

kills 400 Jews who are "Sicari" terrorists and followers of a Jew messiah from Egypt (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 275-276)

62 A.D. - Armenia - Jews Expelled after Jewish vassal prince dies and locals rebel and kill hundreds of Jews (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 417)

63 A.D. - Pompeii (Greek island) - Jews Expelled

66 A.D. - Alexandria, Egypt - Jews Expelled/massacred (50,000) in a pogrom initiated by Greeks (later joined in by the Romans) after Jews try to set fire to the Greek amphitheatre (Josephus, 'The Wars of the Jews', II, 486-498; E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 365-366; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 17, 1182)

66 A.D. - Ceasarea - Jews Expelled/20,000 Jews killed by Roman procurator Felix after Jews attempt to physically take over the city screaming "Jews take precedence over Greeks" and "the city is ours" (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 285-286, 295, 357)

66 A.D. - Scythopolis, Greece - Jews Expelled/massacred after Jews revolt; local Jews side with Greeks against Palestinian Jews; local Jews get caught "double-dealing" (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 309)

67 A.D. - Ascalon, Syria - Jews Expelled/massacred for revolting against Rome, killing Greeks (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 358)

67 A.D. - Bethhoron, Syria - Jews Expelled/massacred for revolting against Rome, killing Greeks (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 358)

67 A.D. - Antioch, Egypt - Jews Expelled/massacred by Emperor Vespasian for revolting against Rome, killing Greeks; plotting to set fire to the city (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 358-364)

70 A.D. - Jerusalem - Jews Expelled/massacred by Emperor Titus for rising in revolt; Josephus gives the figure of 1,100,000 deaths and 97,000 prisoners taken to Rome for Titus' triumph (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 293-330)

71 A.D. - Antioch, Egypt - Jews Expelled/cancelled by Emperor Titus (no reason) for setting fire to city (again) (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 363)

72 A.D. - Alexandria, Egypt - Jews Expelled/massacred (600) for allying with Sicari from Palestine in revolt against Alexandrian prefect Tiberius Julius Lupus (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 366)

73 A.D. - Cyrenaica - Jews Expelled/Killed (3,000) after Sicari from Palestine enlist wealthy Jews in Cyrene to rebel against Rome (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 369-370)

85 A.D. - Jerusalem - Jews Expelled/Killed under Emperor Domitian during Jewish uprising against Rome (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 353)

95-96 A.D. - Rome, Italy - Jews Expelled/cancelled after Jews managed "to deflect his (Emperor Domitian) attack on to the Church"; Domitian conveniently murdered, too, which forstalls impending persecution/prosecution upon Jewry (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 383-384)

109 A.D. - Aricia, Italy - Jews Expelled (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 216)

115-117 A.D. - Palestine - Jews Expelled partially for revolting against Rome under Emperor Trajan (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 393)

115-117 A.D. - Cyrenaica, Greece - Jews Expelled by Emperor Trajan after the great Jewish rebellion (War of Quietus) which began in Cyrenaica; 40,000 to 50,000 Jews killed in the entire Jewish Revolt of 115-117; Jewish messianic hopes convince the Jews that they can ultimately vanquish the entire heathen world; eventually the Greeks put the revolutionary/messianic movement of the Jews down for good; according to Cassius Dio, 220,000 people total were killed during this war between the Greeks and the Jews (Eusebius, 'Hist. Ecclesiastica', IV, 2; Cassius Dio, 'Roman History', 68, 32; E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 371, 393; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 1182)

115-117 B.C. - Cyprus, Greece - Jews Expelled/Killed in Jewish war against the Greeks (see above in same year in Cyrenaica) under Emperor Trajan; according to Cassius Dio, in Cyprus some 240,000 people total were killed by the end of the war; Jews still expelled over a century and a half later (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 389, 393, 404, 412-415; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 1182-1183; Cassius Dio, 'Roman History', 68, 32)

115-117 A.D. - Alexandria, Egypt - Jews Expelled/Killed by the Greeks under Emperor Trajan for revolting against Rome; known in Jewish tradition as the "War of Quietus" (Eusebius, 'Historia Ecclesiastica', IV, 2; E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 389-427; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 18)

115-117 A.D. - North Africa - Jews Expelled for revolting against Rome under Emperor Trajan (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 389, 393)

115-117 A.D. - Mesopotamia - Jews Expelled for revolting against Rome (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 393)

115-117 A.D. - Seleuceia - Jews Expelled causing a revolt (Orosius, Eusebius, E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 418)

116-117 A.D. - Media - Jews Expelled after causing a revolt (Orosius, Eusebius, E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 418)

116 A.D. - Oxyrhynchus, Egypt - Jews Expelled by prefect Apollonios and Roman general Q. Marcius Turbo after rising in revolt/killing Gentile farmers; even over a century later, this city still celebrated the anniversary of their victory over the Jews as a holiday (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 402)

130 A.D. - Judea - Jews Expelled by the Roman Prefect Rufus (Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 39)

132 A.D. - Syria - Jews Expelled by Emperor Hadrian ("The Bar-Kokhba Revolt", Jewish Virtual Library)

132-135 A.D. - Judea - Jews Expelled/massacred (hundreds of thousands) under Emperor Hadrian after Bar Cochba Revolt (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 439-466)

139 A.D. - Rome, Italy - Jews Expelled by Emperor Antoninus Pius for corrupting morals and money fraud (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 205)

155-156 A.D. - Judea (re-named 'Aelia Capitolina' under Emperor Hadrian) - Jews Expelled (eventually cancelled) by Emperor Antoninus Pius after failed revolt over the issue of circumcision (Jews are eventually exempted from the empire-wide ban) (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 467-469)

175 A.D. - Syria - Jews Expelled/massacred by Emperor Marcus Aurelius for supporting revolt of a Roman usurper named Avidius Cassius, who was legate of Syria (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 482-483)

194 A.D. - Judea - Jews Expelled/imprisoned by Emperor Septimius Severus for supporting losing side (Pescennius Niger) in Roman civil war (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 487-490)

250 A.D. - Carthage, North Africa - Jews Expelled (P.E. Grosser/E.G. Halperin, 'Anti-Semitism: Causes and Effects', 1978)

251-252 A.D. - Gaul - Jews self-deport after being given choice of Baptism or Death by Merovingian kings (Solomon Katz, 'The Jews In The Visigothic And Frankish Kingdoms Of Spain And Gaul', p. 22)

255 A.D. - Cappadocia - Jews Expelled/12,000 Jews massacred by Persian King Shapur for conspiring with Rome against Persia (E. Mary Smallwood, 'The Jews Under Roman Rule: From Pompey To Diocletian', p. 509)

325 A.D. – Jerusalem – Jews Expelled (P.E. Grosser/E.G. Halperin, 1978)

400-410 A.D. - Tella, Byzantine Empire - Jews slaughtered after a Jewish attempt to betray a city to the Persians is discovered during Roman-Perisan War; Jews actually dug a tunnel

starting in their synagogue under the city walls which the Persians used to breach the city of Tella, near Edessa (James Parkes, 'The Conflict Of The Church and The Synagogue', p. 257-258)

337 A.D. - Rome, Italy - Jews Expelled by Emperor Constantine The Great "because they rebelled"; the historicity of this allegation is questionable; the reference may have been stimulated by Constantine's anti-Jewish legislation, particularly the severe decrees of 329 and 335 A.D. (Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 39)

388 A.D. - Callinicum, Syria - Jews Expelled (partially); synagogue completely destroyed after John Chrysostom preaches against the Jews throughout the Eastern Empire; many Jews self-deport during the widespread pogrom (Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 24-25)

414-415 A.D. - Alexandria, Egypt - Jews Expelled by Saint Cyril of Alexandria after a Jewish uprising against the Greeks (Socrates Scholasticus; John of Nikiu; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 61; Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 39; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 25)

416-420? A.D. - Constantinople, Byzantine Empire - Jews Expelled by Emperor Theodosius II (Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 25)

418 A.D. - Menorca, Spain - Jews Expelled or asked to convert (Scott Bradbury, 'Severus of Minorca: Letter on the Conversion of the Jews', 1996, p. 154)

468-470 A.D. – Ispahan, Babylon – Jews Expelled/massacred (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 66)

490 A.D. – Babylon – Jews Expelled (again)/self-deport under Babylonian Emperor Peroz (or Pheroces) to Arabia and Malabar on the Indian Ocean (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 66)

516 A.D. - Clermont, France - Jews Expelled/500 killed by Archbishop Avitus after a riot on Ascension Day; Jews flee to Marseilles (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 71)

520? A.D. - Bourges, France - Jews Expelled by Bishop after refusing to convert (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 72)

527-565 A.D. - Byzantine Empire - Jews Expelled/massacred by the thousands after Samaritan Jews revolt and attempt to set up their own state and king; all synagogues and Jewish houses are burned to the ground by Byzantine Emperor Justinian I (James Parkes, 'The Conflict of The Church and The Synagogue', p. 258-259)

567-578 A.D. - Ceasarea, Byzantine Empire - Jews massacre Christians and destroy churches; Byzantine Emperor Justin II puts down revolt and expels the Jewish leaders of the uprising (James Parkes, 'The Conflict of The Church and The Synagogue', p. 259)

558 (or 561) A.D. - Uzzes, France - Jews Expelled by Saint Ferreol (Ferreolus) after refusing Baptism; the choice of Baptism or Expulsion was given only after Jews had plotted with

Saracens to overthrow the King Childebert following days of street battles between Jews and Christians (Solomon Katz, 'The Jews In The Visigothic And Frankish Kingdoms Of Spain And Gaul', p. 24)

576 (or 582) A.D. - Arvernum (Clermont), France - Jews Expelled or forced into Baptism by King Chilperic I (Solomon Katz, 'The Jews In The Visigothic And Frankish Kingdoms Of Spain And Gaul', p. 24, 84; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I., p. 19)

582 A.D. - Merovingia, France - Jews Expelled or Forced to Convert (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I., p. 19)

590 A.D. - Antioch, Syria - Jews Expelled by Byzantines for insulting image of Mary (Salo Baron, 'Social and Religious History of the Jews, Volume 2: Ancient Times to the Beginning of the Christian Era: The First Five Centuries', 1952)

602-610 A.D. - Mesopotamia - Jews partially expelled for plotting a great massacre of Christians and destruction of churches; the plot was betrayed; Christians fell upon the Jews instead and killed many (James Parkes, 'The Conflict of The Church and The Synagogue', p. 259)

608 A.D. - Antioch, Syria - Jews Expelled by Eastern Roman Emperior Phocas after thousands of Jews rioted and killed a number of Christians; it seems that first there was a decree of forced conversion issued against the Jews, and the Jews then rebelled against that; and after the rebellion was quelled the Jews were officially expelled from the city (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 79; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 26, 37)

610 A.D. - Cyprus (Greek island) - Jews Expelled

612-617 A.D. - Visigothic Spain - Jews Expelled/mass converted by King Sisebut at the instigation of Byzantine Emperor Heraclius after an Episcopal Church Council (name?); the decree was accept Christianity of be expelled, but it seems the decree was not fully enforced, although some scholars say that no less than half of Spain's Jewish population of that time did convert to Catholic Christianity; Jewish historians commonly refer to Sisebut's order as a "forced conversion" regardless; Jews refer to this internally as the "First Evil"; some of the wealthier Jews self-deported in 612-613 to Gaul also after originally claiming that they could not leave; what they meant was that the poorer Jews could not leave, of course; many of these Jews who self-deported to Gaul returned to Spain under its its next King Swinthila (Bernard S. Bachrach, 'Early Medieval Jewish Policy in Western Europe', p. 7-8; C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 7; (Solomon Katz, 'The Jews In The Visigothic And Frankish Kingdoms Of Spain And Gaul', p. 25; Joseph F. O'Callaghan, 'A History of Medieval Spain', p. 71; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I., p. 20-21; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 34-38, 1186-1188)

614 A.D. - Palestine - Jews Expelled by Persians/massacred by Romans as Persians invade and capture Galilee; Jews joined army of invading Persians against Rome; Jews purchase 90,000 Christian prisoners from the Persians for the pleasure of cruelly putting them to death;

Jews were expelled, however, afterwards, because they insisted on setting up their own independent state under the protection of Persia and the Persians weren't going to allow that (James Parkes, 'The Conflict of The Church and The Synagogue', p. 260; originally via Michael the Syrian)

622 A.D. - Medina - Jews Expelled/Killed; overseen by Mohammed (<http://www.jewishvirtuallibrary.org/the-treatment-of-jews-in-arab-islamic-countries>)

627 A.D. - Medina - Jews Expelled/Killed (again); overseen by Mohammed (<http://www.jewishvirtuallibrary.org/the-treatment-of-jews-in-arab-islamic-countries>)

629 A.D. - Jerusalem - Jews Expelled partially by Byzantine Emperor Heraclius I after retaking of Jerusalem; upon approach, Jews bribed him to guarantee their safety, but upon entering the city and seeing the number of Christians that the Jews had killed, he withdrew his promise, executed many of them, and expelled the remaining Jews after their refusal to convert to Christianity (James Parkes, 'The Conflict of The Church and The Synagogue', p. 261; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I., p. 19; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 1186)

629 A.D. - Austrasia/Francia/Gaul - Jews Expelled/mass converted by Merovingian King Dagobert I on orders of the Church; baptism or expulsion was the choice (Bernard S. Bachrach, 'Early Medieval Jewish Policy in Western Europe', p. 60-64; (Solomon Katz, 'The Jews In The Visigothic And Frankish Kingdoms Of Spain And Gaul', p. 25, 84; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I., p. 19; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 31-33)

629 A.D. - Lombardy, Italy - Jews Expelled/mass converted by Merovingian King Dagobert I (C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 3; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I., p. 19)

638 A.D. - Jerusalem - Jews Expelled by the second caliph, Omar (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 88)

638-640 A.D. - Visigoth Empire - Jews Expelled by King Chintila for aiding influential Goths who had revolted; also, Chintila wanted to unite the ethnicities and religions of the empire, and because of that he would not tolerate any Jews who refused to convert to Christianity; Netanyahu denies this expulsion, however other Jewish historians such as Graetz and Hefele emphacize that it did most definitely happen (Bernard S. Bachrach, 'Early Medieval Jewish Policy in Western Europe', p. 14; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism'; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 38-39; Heinrich Graetz, 'A History of the Jews', II, p. 211 (1870); K.J. von Hefele, 'History of the Councils', IV, p. 461 (1895))

640 A.D. - Arabia - Jews Expelled by the second caliph, Omar, after trying to subvert Islam (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 87)

653 A.D. – Toledo, Visigothic Empire – Jews Expelled by King Reccesuinth for "polluting the soil of Spain" after Eighth Council of Toledo (Bernard S. Bachrach, 'Early Medieval Jewish Policy in Western Europe', p. 15)

672 A.D. - Visigothic Empire - Jews Expelled by King Wamba after Jews initiate revolt with Duke Paul in Septimania (Bernard S. Bachrach, 'Early Medieval Jewish Policy in Western Europe', p. 18; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 89; Joseph F. O'Callaghan, 'A History of Medieval Spain', p. 72)

673 A.D. - Narbonne (Narbonensis), Gaul - Jews Expelled for siding with Jews of Septimania in revolt; some (Jewish) sources claim that Jews "were not among the plotters of the uprising" although there is plenty of reason to doubt this and other (Jewish) authors highly dispute it; in all cases, the Jews were at the very least moved to join the insurgents as residence of the mutinous province which at that time was home to a very prosperous Jewish community which had the "King of the Jews", or "Nasi", of Narbonne in its residence; King Wamba, who, after he crushed the rebellion, expelled the Jews, later on permitted their return to the province after a lavish bribe from the Jews; Bachrach makes the claim that Jews at that time were "courted by the nobles" and "a formidable political faction" which "played a great role in both the making and unmaking of kings", so in all probability Jews were responsible in at least some capacity for this rebellion, which is why they were expelled after it (Bernard S. Bachrach, 'Early Medieval Jewish Policy in Western Europe', p. 18; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 1189)

682 A.D. - Visigothic Empire - Jews Expelled (paritally)/self-deport after Twelfth Council of Toledo by King/Count Erwig; the Jews were offered conversion to Christianity within one year or exile; many Jews flee to North Africa (Bernard S. Bachrach, 'Early Medieval Jewish Policy in Western Europe', p. 19; Joseph F. O'Callaghan, 'A History of Medieval Spain', p. 72; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 50-52)

692 A.D. - Lombardy, Italy - Jews Expelled/Forced to convert to Christianity by Lombards (Solomon Katz, 'The Jews In The Visigothic And Frankish Kingdoms Of Spain And Gaul', p. 26)

693-694 A.D. - Visigothic Empire - Jews Expelled/reduced to slavery after Sixteenth Council of Toledo by King Egica after plotting to "deliver Spain to the more tolerant Moors"; King Egica specifically stated at the next council, the Seventeenth Council of Toledo (694) that the Jews "conspired to overthrow the King's rule in Spain" and "exterminate the Christian people and [destroy] their homeland"; originally, this claim goes back to one Menendez y Pelayo, who wrote the classic history of this episode in his book 'Historia de los Heterodoxos Espanoles', in which he tells of how the Jews plotted with the Moslems from North Africa to invade Spain; the Jewish "converts" even tried to intice the Moslems to invade by paying them in gold; the conspiracy had King Egica, personally, accusing the Jews of not only "planning the "ruin of the fatherland and the entire people", but also "of the whole of Christendom" outside of just Spain; some Jewish historians vehemently deny or downplay this episode in Spanish history, but mainstream historians like O'Callaghan, Collins, Juster, Katz, and others treat it as if it was basically self-evident, and the scholarly consensus on this episode is that the Jews of Spain conspired with the Jews and Moslems of North Africa to invade Spain in order to free the Spanish Jews of their believed heavy yoke of slavery and political repression (Menendez y Pelayo, 'Historia de los Heterodoxos Espanoles', I, p. 372-373; Heinrich Graetz, 'History of the Jews', II, p. 148 (1870); Jean Juster, 'Les Juifs dans l'Empire Romain, II, p. 282-283, (1914); Solomon Katz, 'The Jews In The Visigothic And Frankish Kingdoms Of Spain And Gaul', p. 21; Roger Collins, 'Visigothic Spain, 409-711', p. 92-102; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 91-92; Joseph F. O'Callaghan, 'A History of Medieval Spain', p. 72; Reinhart Dozy, 'Spanish Islam', p. 227-232 (1913); Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition of Spain in the Fifteenth Century', p. 52-53, 1190)

723 A.D. - Cordoba, Visigothic Empire - Jews Expelled/Houses and goods confiscated by Islamic Caliph Ambisa-Behim-Zon after a Jewish Messiah named Zonario became widely accepted and caused major disruption (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 431)

723 A.D. - Byzantine Empire - Jews Expelled/mass converted under Leo The Isaurian (C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 3)

820 A.D. - Lyon, France - Jews Expelled/Killed by Saint Agobard for owning/selling Christian slaves (Bernard S. Bachrach, 'Early Medieval Jewish Policy in Western Europe', p. 98-102, Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 95-97)

855 A.D. - Italy - Jews Expelled by Holy Roman Emperor Ludwig II
(<http://www.jewishencyclopedia.com/articles/12816-rome>)

875 OR 845 A.D. - Canton, China - Jews Expelled/Killed

876 A.D. - Sens - Jews Expelled (P.E. Grosser/E.G. Halperin, 1978)

897-900 A.D. - Narbonne - Jews Expelled/Land confiscated by Charles The Simple (A. Zuckerman, 'A Jewish Princetom in Feudal France', p. 200; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 98-99)

931 A.D. - Bari, Italy - Jews Expelled/Killed (Bruce R. Booker, 'The Lie: Exposing the Satanic Plot Behind Anti-Semitism', Ch. 4)

985 A.D. - Sparta, Greece - Jews Expelled (<http://www.jewishhistory.org.il/history.php?search=expelled&dosearch.x=12&dosearch.y=6&dosearch=Search>)

976 A.D. - Imola, Italy - Jews Expelled after an attack by Ravenna (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 72)

1007 A.D. - France - Jews Expelled/Martyred/Persecuted; King Robert The Pius of France decrees that Judaism should be "erased entirely from the land"; Duke Richard II of Normandy imprisons many Jews also; but Jews go to Rome and bribe Pope John XVIII to cancel the decree (Norman Gold, 'The Jews In Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 3-5)

1009 A.D. - Aurelia, Babylonia - Jews Expelled for inciting the Sultan to destroy the Temple in Jerusalem (Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 40)

1010 A.D. - Limoges, Aquitania, France (and other towns) - Jews Expelled by the Bishop of Limoges, Audouin, after forcing Jews to have a debate with the local clergy where they were given a choice between expulsion or conversion after they lost (Norman Gold, 'The Jews In Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 8)

1012 A.D. – Mayence, Germany - Jews Expelled by Emperor Henry II after a high church dignitary converted to Judaism; Jews were given the choice of conversion or expulsion; Jews were permitted to return after only one year however after a huge bribe by the Jew Simon ben Isaac (Rebecca Rist, 'Popes and Jews, 1095-1291'; Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I: Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780, p. 14-15; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 106; Norman Gold, 'The Jews In Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 8)

1013 A.D. - Córdoba, Spain - Jews Expelled/self-deport after many attacks by the Muslim population on wealthy Jews such as Samuel ha-Nagid, the Jewish astronomer, merchant, and scholar who eventually rose to prominence in Granada at the court of Habbus, the Muslim King of Granada (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews of Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 32-33)

1016 A.D. - Kairouan, Tunisia - Jews Expelled/Forced to convert (George F. Nafziger/Mark W. Walton, 'Islam at War: A History', p. 230)

1020 A.D. - Granada, Spain - Jews flee after supporting the losing side in a Muslim civil war. Some Jews, like Samuel ha-Nagid supported Badis, who won the conflict in the end, and those Jews remained. However, another faction of Jews supported and bankrolled the opposition, and so when the opposition lost those Jews quickly fled to nearby Seville (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews of Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 33)

1035 A.D. - Mercatello, Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled; after the death of King Sancho the Great in 1035, opposition forces overran the royal mansion in Mercatello, near Burgos, and killed at least 60 Jews; the Jewish settlement was completely destroyed, and the remaining Jews were forced to move to Castrojeriz, also in Spain (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews of Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 43; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 66, 68)

1035 A.D. - Castrojeriz, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled/massacred (60); this outbreak occurred shortly after the death of King Sancho the Great of Navarre before one of his heirs, Fernando I could establish his authority over Castile; after the pogrom, all surviving Jews were quickly evicted from their houses and estates transferred to Castrillo, a half-abandoned castle in possession of the monarchy (Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 1213)

1066 A.D. - Toledo, Spain - Jews Expelled/Killed by Crusaders (C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 13)

1084 A.D. - Mainz, Germany - Jews Expelled/self-deported after pogrom breaks out over

Jewish Usury (Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I: Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780, p. 15)

1090 A.D. - Granada, Spain - Jews Expelled/self-deport after the fall of the city to Ibn Tashufin, King of the Almoravides; the Jewish community there was "destroyed" although many of the Jews managed to flee to Toledo in fear of reprisals for aiding the enemies of Tashufin; The famous Ibn Ezra Jewish family was one of these examples of Jews who self-deported to Toledo and later rose to great fame and wealth within the Court there (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews of Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 60-64)

1095 A.D. - Valencia, Spain - Jews Expelled/self-deport along with Muhammedans during the victory of El Cid over the Muhammedans, who the Jews were politically aligned with; some of these Jews were eventually allowed to return (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews of Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 52-53)

1096 A.D. - Bohemia - Jews Expelled/Killed/Forced to Convert after abetting an enemy possibly; ; this expulsion was eventually commuted and the Jews were simply incarcerated and released after a large payment in gold (Norman Golb, 'The Jews In Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 124; Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 40)

1096 A.D. - Lorraine, France (and other territories)- Jews Expelled by Phillip I of France after taking the advice of Peter of Cluny (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 108-109; Norman Golb, 'The Jews In Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 124)

1096 A.D. - Monieux, France - Jews Expelled/Killed/Forced to Convert (Norman Gold, 'The Jews In Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 127-130)

1096 A.D. - Metz, Germany - Jews Expelled/Killed/Forced to Convert (Norman Gold, 'The Jews In Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 119)

1096 A.D. - Trier, Germany - Jews Expelled/Killed/Forced to Convert (Norman Gold, 'The Jews In Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 119)

1096 A.D. - Regensburg, Germany - Jews Expelled/Killed/Forced to Convert (Norman Gold, 'The Jews In Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 119)

1107 A.D. - Morocco - Jews Expelled/Forced to convert (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 82)

1108-1109 A.D. - Toledo, Spain - Jews Expelled following the death of pro-Jewish King Alfonso VI of Castile after years previous of massive political treachery concluding with the assassination of King Alfonso VI's Jewish court physician Somomon Ferrizuel; following a bad defeat by the Muslim Almoravides at the Battle of Ucles (1108) during the Reconquista, in which the 40,000 Jews in Alfonso's army committed mass-treason and desertion on the battlefield, helping the Muslims win specifically, a general uprising broke out in both Toledo and Leon, which occasioned the murders and pillaging of thousands of Jews as agents of the crown; Alfonso was a very pro-Jewish monarch who allowed Jews into the uppermost parts of his central administration unlike previous kings, and this was resented bitterly by all Spaniards as well as the Church at the time; after getting Pope Gregory VII to intercede on the peoples' behalf on the issue of Jews commanding many posts of high authority and prestige in Alfonso's administration, Alfonso still would not yield in his pro-Jewish policy; so immediately after Alfonso's death during the interregnum the riots against Jews broke out when the country was in turmoil mainly over the question of the monarchic succession; never before in the long history of Spain (or Europe) had such a "large scale attack upon the Jews" taken place says Netanyahu; Netanyahu also says that "a message was sent to the rulers of Spain: The Christian populace of the Spanish cities wants no Jews in its midst.", and the main goal of the Toledans at this time was not to massacre the Jews but to simply provoke them to peacefully emigrate; the future Kings of Castile and Leon, however, were not inclined to heed this message; the burghers, however, did demand afterward that no "recently converted" be allowed to serve in any public office, and apparently at least for a brief period this decree signed by the reluctant Crown was enforced; because of this enforcement by subsequent Kings of Castile many Jews during this time migrated from Toledo to other parts of Europe (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews of Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 50-51; Benzion Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 66, 68, 146, 256-259, 297, 1211)

1109 A.D. - Castrillo, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled during the nationwide riots (see Toledo above); the people of Castrojeriz attacked the Jews "killing some of them, taking other captives, and putting all of them ot the sack"; this happened at several different castles that King Fernando I of Castile had generously allowed Jews to live in in order to be protected from previous pogroms against Jews elsewhere (Benzion Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Castile', p. 1213)

1109 A.D. - Escalona, Castile, Spain - Jews Pogromed/self-deport in riots against the Jews; see above (Benzion Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p.

1113 A.D. - Russia - Jews Expelled by Prince Vladimir Monomakh (www.rusjournal.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/02/Monomax\_Jews.pdf)

Rist, 'Popes and Jews, 1095-1291'; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 166-168; Norman Golb, 'The Jews of Medieval Normandy: A Social and Intellectual History', p. 520, 544; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain' Vol. II, p. 9, 15-17)

1321 A.D. - Carcassonne, France - Jews Expelled/unsuccessful under King Phillip V The Tall for Usury, Pimping, Extortion, and Blasphemy (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 167-168)

1321 A.D. - Jaca, Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled/"destroyed" after the Shepherd's Crusade crosses over into Spain (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain' Vol. II, p. 15)

1321 A.D. - Montclus, Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled/"destroyed" after the Shepherd's Crusade crosses over in to Spain; here Jews were accused of various forms of sabotage on the people of the town including the destruction of the town's bridge and the cutting down of the town's trees, which both were presumably done by the Jews in order to stop the Shepherd's from reaching them, because the Shepherd's whole motive while at first was to expel the Muslims at this time became to expel and/or kill the Jews too (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain' Vol. II, p. 15)

1322 A.D. - Small Towns in France - Jews Expelled (again) by King Charles IV; this expulsion seems to just be a confirmation of the earlier expulsions, and since it was in the first year of King Charles IV's reign he felt the need to reiterate the expulsion edicts that had been proclaimed under King Philip V The Tall (William C. Jordan, 'The French Monarchy and the Jews: From Philip Augustus to the Last Capetians', p. 32; Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 33; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 166-167)

1325 A.D. - Brindisi, Italy - Jews Expelled/forced into baptism (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 271)

1326 A.D. - Pressburg, Germany - Jews Expelled at city council's request
(<http://www.jewishhistory.org.il/history/php>)

1327 A.D. - Iglasias, Italy - Jews Expelled due to medical/financial malpractice (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 263)

1328 A.D. - Savoy, Germany - Jews Expelled/"exterminated" C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 13)

1328 A.D. - Navarre, Spain - Jews Expelled/"exterminated" (6,000) after death of King Charles IV; bands of mobs (>20,000), calling themselves "Jew Killers", under the leadership of the Franciscan Don Peter Olygoyen ravage every city in Navarre (except its capital, Pamplona) killing every Jew in site; the expelled Jews fled to neighboring Aragon then under the rule of King Alfonso IV (C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 13; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 169; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain' Vol. II, p. 17)

1329 A.D. - Naples, Italy - Jews Expelled (no reason given) (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 100)

1330s A.D. - Styria, Austria - Jews Expelled by "King Armleder" after bands of farmers called Judenschlager (Jew bashers) blamed them for destroying their harvests Jews Massacred/Expelled for Host Desecration (Michael A. Meyer- 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780, p. 42)

1335 A.D. - Saragossa, Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled/self-deport/"exterminated"; synagogue demolished after the Inquisition goes after revolutionary and Kabalistic Jews; these Jews were actively helping conversos return to open Judaism; before a faction of the Jews self-deported they ran up extremely high loans which they never paid (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 13-14)

1336 A.D. - Cividale, Italy - Jews Expelled for ritual abuses against Christian objects/religion (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 142)

1336-1338 A.D. - Armleder, Germany - Jews Expelled after a peasant revolt of the Judenschlager (Jew-Killers) which started after ritual murder charges (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation In Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 34; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 174-175; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 16)

1336-1338 A.D. - Alsace, France - Jews Expelled/massacred (1,500) after a peasant revolt of the Judenschlager (Jew-Killers); the Jews who were left self-deported to Colmar, France (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 174-175; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 16)

1336-1338 A.D. - Austria - Jews Expelled after a peasant revolt of the Judenschlager (Jew-Killers) (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 174-175)

1337 A.D. - Deggendorf, Germany - Jews Expelled by Henry, Duke of Bavaria and the Palatinate after a peasant revolt of the Judenschlager (Jew-Killers) for ritual murder (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation In Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 34; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 175)

1336-1337 A.D. - Bavaria - Jews Expelled by Henry, Duke of Bavaria and the Palatinate and massacred by the thousands after a peasant revolt of the Judenschlager (Jew-Killers) for Ritual Murder (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 175; Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 40)

1337 A.D. - Moravia - Jews Expelled/massacred by the thousands after a peasant revolt of the Judenschlager (Jew-Killers) for ritual murder (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 175)

1337 A.D. - Bohemia - Jews Expelled/massacred by the thousands after a peasant revolt of the Judenschlager (Jew-Killers) for ritual murder (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 175)

1337 A.D. - Colmar, France - Jews Expelled (Zosa Szajkowski, 'Jews and the French Revolutions of 1789, 1830, and 1848', p. 156)

1338 A.D. - Pulkau, Germany - Jews Expelled after a peasant revolt of the Judenschlager (Jew-Killers) for ritual murder (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation In Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 34)

1338 A.D. - Gustrow, Germany - Jews Expelled (Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 40)

1339 A.D. - Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled (unsuccessful) by King Alfonso XI of Castile after the Moroccans invade Gibraltar seeking to recover the peninsula for Islam; suspicions were voiced that the Jews would betray the country to the Muslim invaders, as they did in 711; in 1336 the King appoints Gonzalo Martinez de Oviedo to the position of major-domo as well as head of the Order of Alcantara, and this man lobbies relentlessly for the expulsion of the Jews from Castile, to which the King initially agrees to, even going to far as imprison at least ten of the Court Jews of that time some of which died in prison; this expulsion was to be designed basically similarly to the previous major expulsions from France (1306) and England (1290); Gonzalo gave theological reasons for his proposal to expel the Jews, and then he added that while the King goes out to make war against his foes the Court Jews sit at home eating and drinking; the expulsion order was eventually cancelled through the intervention of Archbishop of Toledo and eventual Cardinal "Don Gil" Aegidius Albornoz, who pleaded the case of the Jews in front of King Alfonso while using the argument that the Jews bring so much "treasure" to the King's economy basically; eventually Gonzalo Martinez de Oviedo was charged with high treason and killed (likely through the plotting of the Jews) and the matter was put to rest for many years after (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 354-359; Benjamin R. Gampel, 'Crisis and Creativity in the Sephardic World', 1391-1648', p. 83;

1348 A.D. - Small Towns in Austria - Jews Expelled (the Black Death) (Irwin W. Sherman, 'The Power of Plagues, 2006)

1348 A.D. - Tuscany, Italy - Jews Expelled (the Black Death) (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 132)

1348 A.D. - Mantua, Italy - Jews Expelled (the Black Death) (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 130)

1348 A.D. - Parma, Italy - Jews Expelled (the Black Death) (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 131)

1348-1349 A.D. - Colmar, France - Jews Expelled (Zosa Szajkowski, 'Jews and the French Revolutions of 1789, 1830, and 1848', p. 156)

1349 A.D. - Strasbourg, Alsace, France - Jews Massacred (2,000)/Expelled for a century by townspeople on Valentine's Day because the Jews manipulated the price of corn, and that the Jews were protected from any prosecution of their crime by the city council; also, pots of poison were found in the wells; Jews didn't settle in Alsace again until the 18th Century when Cerf Barr Medelsheim, a rich merchant and banker was allowed (Cecil Roth, 'The Jewish Book of Days'; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 178)

1349 A.D. - Nuremberg, Germany - Jews Expelled/burnt/self-deported; Emperor Charles IV tried to protect them, but the masses couldn't be stopped in chasing away all the extremely wealthy Jews of this city (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 179)

1349 A.D. - Hielbronn, Germany - Jews Expelled (P.E. Grosser/E.G. Halperin, 'Anti-Semitism:

Causes and Effects, 1978)

1349 A.D. - Breslau, Germany - Jews Expelled (www.jewishvitalibrary.org/breslau)

1349 A.D. - Saxony, Germany - Jews Expelled (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation In Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 33)

1349 A.D. - Bavaria, Germany - Jews Expelled after Pogroms (James F. Harris, 'The People Speak: Anti-Semitism and Emancipation in 19th Century Bavaria', p. 13)

1349 A.D. - Mainz, Germany - Jews Expelled/Killed (6,000) after killing 200 Christians (Barbara W. Tuchman, 'A Distant Mirror', p. 113; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 178)

1349 A.D. - Cologne, Germany - Jews Expelled/"exterminated" (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 179)

1349 A.D. - Spire, Germany - Jews Expelled/self-deport after massacres; The Palatinate Count Rupert took them in and protected them (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 179)

1349 A.D. - Worms, Germany - Jews Expelled/self-deport after massacres; The Palatinate Count Rupert took them in and protected them (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 179)

1349 A.D. - Regensburg, Germany - Jews Expelled/unsuccessful because of the intervention of the town council and the high bourgeoisie even though the Mayor of the city wanted them expelled (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 179)

1349 A.D. - Wurzburg, Lower Franconia, Germany - Jews Expelled after Pogroms (James F. Harris, 'The People Speak', p. 13)

1349 A.D. - Hungary - Jews Expelled by Louis, King of Hungary not for "bringing the Plague", but for "being miscreants" (P.E. Grosser/E.G. Halperin, 'Anti-Semitism: Causes and Effects, 1978; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 179)

1349 A.D. - Basel, Switzerland - Jews Expelled (<http://www.jewishhistory.org.il/history.php>)

1350 A.D. - Lueneburg, Germany - Jews Expelled (Selma Stern, 'The Court Jew: A Contribution to the History of the Period of Absolutism in Central Europe', p. 292)

1350 A.D.? - Strasbourg, France - Jews Expelled; "14th Century" (Zosa Szajkowski, 'Jews and the French Revolutions of 1789, 1830, and 1848', p. 155)

1352 A.D. - Bulgaria - Jews Expelled for heretical activity (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/History\_of\_the\_Jews\_in\_Bulgaria#Bulgarian\_Empire)

1354 A.D. - Seville, Castile, Spain - Jews (partially) Expelled/Persecuted due to their being blamed for spreading the Great Plague and for Host Desecration (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 362-363; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The History of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 1196)

1355 A.D. - Toledo, Castile, Spain - Jews (partially) Expelled after a pogrom (known as the Alcana massacre) in the smaller Jewish ghetto; over 1,200 Jews killed by Christians and Muslims; this transpired during a rebellion against King Peter/Pedro, where his brother Count

Henry/Enrique of Trastamara was trying to occupy the capital city of Castile in order to use it as the headquarters of the rebels; in order to hold and occupy Toledo, however, it was vital to control the Jewish quarters because they were walled in and highly fortified; so it was during Henry's attempt at seizing this juderia that the Jews were pogromed; so far, from I can detect no other overt anti-Semitic motives on the part of the rebels and originators of this pogrom- although that doesn't mean yet that this was at least not part of the overall motive; the Count Henry was not successful, by the way, at seizing Toledo, and after King Peter had regained the city, he publicly executed 24 leading rebels, while Henry escaped to Toro (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 364, 418-419; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 95-100; Peter Such, 'Chronicle of King Pedro Volumes 1-3 by Pero López de Ayala', p. 305-349)

1355-1356 A.D. - Cuenca, Castile, Spain - Jews (partially) Expelled; over 1,200 Jews killed by Christians and Muslims in pogrom (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 364; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 100-101; Eusebio Ramirez, 'Perdon a Cuenca por haber seguido a dona Blanca de Borbon', in Revista de Archivos, Bibliotecas y Museos, 27 (1923), p. 341-351)

1360 A.D. - Hungary - Jews Expelled again (need source)

1360 A.D. - Bologna, Italy - Jews Expelled by Cardinal Albornoz (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 126)

1360 A.D. - Breslau, Germany - Jews Expelled again (www.jewishvirtuallibrary.org/breslau)

1364 A.D. - France - Jews cancel an expulsion order from King Charles V after a 1,500 gold franc bribe from the banker Manasses de Vesoul; Jews given 6 more years that they could stay while not being allowed to charge excessive interest rates (which they habitually violated); finally, after another bribe of 3,000 gold francs from the same Jewish banker, Jews were allowed another extension- now amounting to a period of 26 years where the Jews were allowed to remain in France (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 203)

1366 A.D. - Briviesca, Spain - Jews Expelled; 200 families massacred by the troops of France's Bertrand du Guesclin and Spain's Henry of Trastamara in the latter's rebellion against King Peter/Pedro the Cruel of Castile (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 364-365)

1367 A.D. - Villadiego, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled/massacred by English soldiery of the Black Prince (of Wales) after King Peter/Pedro's defeat of the rebellion in this area by Henry of Trastamara (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 366)

of the Black Prince (of Wales) after King Peter/Pedro's defeat of the rebellion in this area by Henry of Trastamara (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 366)
1367-1368 A.D. - Segovia, Castile, Spain - Jews Pogromed/self-deport during Civil War; Jews robbed of their pledges and banknotes and property indicating that Christian debt to Jewish moneylenders was a prime motive in the riots themselves against Jewry (Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 69, 1193)

1367-1368 A.D. - Avila, Castile, Spain - Jews Pogromed/self-deport during Civil War; Jews robbed of their pledges and banknotes and property indicating that Christian debt to Jewish moneylenders was a prime motive in the riots themselves against Jewry (Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 69, 1193)

1368 A.D. - Jaen, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled/sold into slavery (300 families) after the capture of the town by King Peter/Pedro (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 366, for the alleged "bribe" see p. 43)

1369 A.D. - Toledo, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled/exterminated (8,000 Jews)/self-exile after capture of the city by new Spanish King Henry of Trastamara from old Spanish King Peter/Pedro The Cruel; some Jews were also potentially sold into slavery at this time as punishment for siding with Peter/Pedro during the revolt in Toledo; Abraham Zacuto (1452–1515), in his book 'Sefer Yuchasin' (1580) makes the obviously inflated judgement that 38,000 Jews were killed in the ensuing wars between the two brothers (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 200-201; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', II, p. 201-203; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 1198; https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Henry\_II\_of\_Castile)

1369 A.D. - Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled (unsuccessful) by King Pedro IV of Aragon as punishment for the misdeeds of two Jewish mintmasters who purposefully degraded the currency; likely the Jews bribed their way out of the expulsion in this case (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 29)

1370 A.D. - Brussels, Belgium- Jews Expelled for Host Desecration; 3 burned alive; a secular holiday celebrated every 50 years to remember (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 202)

1374 A.D. - Majorca, Spain - Jews Expelled (unsuccessful) for economic reasons; this Jewish community was said to be the most prosperous one in the whole world at this time; after the Jews were caught conspiring with the Muslims and North Africans giving away Spain's secret's basically the natives complained and demanded immediate expulsion of all Jews from the island (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 49-50)

1375 A.D. - Palermo, Italy - Jews Expelled/Forced outside city walls (C. Roth. 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 246)

1378-1380 A.D. - Seville, Andalusia, Spain - Jews Expelled from several small towns (which started in Alcala de Guadaira) in the Archbishopric of Seville (which had 23 synagogues at the time!) mainly through the insistence of the Archdeacon, Ferran Martinez, who went against the Crown and highest Church authorities in order to remove Jews from where they could corrupt Spanish Christians; many lower church officials, judges, and police chiefs also signed the orders of expulsion written to various cities that demanded the Jews be expelled; the concejos of Andalusia, however, refused to act on Martinez's recommendation due to the fact that he was not a high enough church official at the time; although the Andalusian church hierarchy did think the issue of Jewish Expulsion was highly important however; in the opinion then current, Jewish Expulsion was too important to be started off by anyone other than a high-ranking church official, and certainly not just some young archdeacon like Martinez; this caused an open conflict between the Church and the King, Enrique II of Castile, who sternly reprimanded Martinez for his imprudent acts against the Jews; of course all along the King had the Court Jews Joseph Pichon and Samuel Abravanel encouraging him in the "correct" direction; a year later (1379), however, Pichon was assassinated by his (Jewish) rivals, while King Enrique II died unexpectedly leaving the throne to his son Juan I, who in due course also rejected the demands of Martinez and the town councils to forcibly expel the Jews (Benzyion Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 130-148, 1198-1199)

1380 A.D. - Paris, France - attempted Jew Expulsion from citizens after mob attack dealing with Usury and Jews/unsuccessful (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 208)

1380 A.D. - Slovakia - Jews Expelled

1384 A.D. - Magdeburg, Germany - Jews Expelled for causing the Black Plague (Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 40)

1386-1388 A.D. - Strasbourg, France - Jews Expelled by King Wenceslaus for usury after the same king re-admitted them in 1383 (Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780 p. 50; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism, p. 205; Zosa Szajkowski, 'Jews and the French Revolutions of 1789, 1830, and 1848', p. 299)

1389 A.D. - Gerona, Catalonia, Spain - Jews Expelled/"entirely ruined and dead"; economic reasons are hinted at (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 46)

1389-1390 A.D. - Prague, Holy Roman Empire - Jews Expelled/3,000 massacred at Easter; all debts due to Jews cancelled (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 210)

1390 A.D. - Bacharach, Germany - Jews Expelled for Ritual Murder (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 36)

1390-1391 A.D. - Seville (and many smaller cities like Alcala de Guadaira, Coria, Cantillana, etc), Andalusia, Spain - Jews Expelled after pogroms killing 4,000 total and having many Jews convert to Christianity; the local authorities with Archbishop Ferran Martinez at the head had wanted them expelled for a long time but the Pope and the King had always prevented it; once King Jaun I of Castile dies, the Queen Mother, Leonora/Eleanor, one half of the Regency, which is weak, and because of its weakness it fails ultimately to protect the Jews before the popular pogroms begin against them; although the Regency, of course, sides in this matter with the Jewish leaders and against the populist "anti-Semitic" party, the Sevillian pogrom sets off a chain reaction of pogroms and local expulsions that proliferates all throughout both Castile, Aragon, Catalonia, and even outside of Spain proper; the lesson learned here- both by the Jews as well as just in terms of the history of the JQ- is that Jewish Power is weakest when the centralization of State Power is weakest, which is why Jews always throughout history have strived for strong central governance whether of the Communist or Neo-Liberal or Absolutist variety; it is also noteworthy in this incident(s) of nationwide pogroms against the Jews that the Jews of Seville were already long prior to the pogroms writing pleas to their Jewish leadership in Madrid that if they did not soon get some form of aid to stop the grassroots movements against the Jews that they would soon be forced to leave the country; so this is admission fully that all along the Jews had the ability to simply leave, but all along the Jews chose to stay even at imminent threat of nationwide pogrom because it was deemed necessary in that time period to destroy Spain more than it was necessary to have a globally thriving Jewry (similar parallels can be found here with Jewry under the Third Reich in Germany circa 1930s); the Regency's representative in Seville, Ponce de Leon, followed a policy of his own at the time which while probably not openly anti-Jewish certainly did not lift a finger in order to help the Jews either- claims Netanyahu (p. 149) (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 137, 247; C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 14-15; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 95-169; Benzyion Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 136-149, 283-292, 1199-1201)

1390-1391 A.D. - The Palatinate, Germany - Jews Expelled, but returned very shortly (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 35; Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780 p. 50)

1390-1391 A.D. - Ecija, Andalusia, Spain - Jews Expelled/Exterminated; Ecija is noteworthy for the fact that it was the home archdiocese of Archbishop Ferran Martinez, who for over a decade prior had been conducting a popular and grassroots drive to expel the Jews from all of Spain (C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 15; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 95-169; Benzyion Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 139, 149)

1391 A.D. - Carmona, Andalusia, Spain - Jews Expelled/Exterminated (C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 15; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 95-169; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 149)

1391 A.D. - Cordoba, Andalusia, Spain - Jews Expelled (partially) in small towns and cities (such as Jerez) while being "exterminated" (a total of at least 2,000) in others after wave of pogroms against Jews which originally began in Seville under the direction of Ferran Martinez; Netanyahu seems to give the impression that all of these pogroms throughout 1391 were centrally organized mainly by Ferran Martinez and that the royal representatives in all these areas were not really enthusiastic about preserving the peace under the orders of the politically weak Regency (young Juan I and Leonora/Eleanor of Aragon); in Jerez and Cordoba, the police apparently ignored the pogrom (or were reluctant to stop the riots) while the attacks took place, although some patricians offered their homes to Jews for shelter after receiving "handsome rewards"; and in both Andalusian cities the "little people" rose up against the grandees and threw them out of the city while appointing new government in their stead; some of these "grandeess" were Jewish and/or crypto-Jewish, but all of them took the side of the Jews while trying to protect them from the mob, and all of them failed; also in this pogrom it was not only limited to the "little people" strictly, but some urban patricians, favorites and agents of the caballeros, and even some priests took part in the "orgy of violence"; many Jews voluntarily self-exiled or fled to neighboring provinces; the "great majority", however of Cordovan Jews converted officially to Christianity rather than either be expelled or be put to death (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 95-169; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 149-151)

1391 A.D. - Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled (partially) from several cities and towns including Toledo, Madrid, Burgos, Segovia, Soria, Jaen, Villa Real, Cuenca, Logrono, Montoro, Andujar, Alcala de Guadaira, Santa Olalla, Cazalla, Fregenal, Ubeda, Baeza, etc; in general the direction and trajectory of the pogroms presented a "northward thrust", where Jews were nearly "exterminated" after pogroms led by Ferran Martinez which initially started in Seville; except for the sporadic attacks which happened against the Jews of Castile during the Civil War period (1351-1369), Castile had not really seen bloody riots of this scale and intensity for almost 300 years (says Netanyahu, p. 146); no less than 20,000 Jews converted to Christianity while "thousands" of Jews (mostly men) were killed by the pogromists; most of the Toledan community converted too; the royal representatives of the Regency (young Juan I and Leonora/Eleanor of Aragon) evidently did not hasten too much to protect the Jews, although various local senors and wealthier types did try to shelter Jews during the riots, and we know this only from the "great gifts they (the Jews) gave the senors who sheltered them in that extreme tribulation" (Ayala, p. 167); most Jews on the whole converted to Christianity, it is said, but there were remainders who were either sold into slavery or who fled the cities for good knowing that if they stayed any longer they would be killed; many quotes about "large-scale conversions" and "wiped out communities"; one of the major converts at this time, in Burgos, was Solomon ha-Levi, who became Pablo de Santa Maria (or de Cartagena), and he pre-empted the ultimatum of "conversion or death" by voluntarily being baptized just weeks ahead of these major pogroms throughout Castile; most of the rest of the Burgos Jewish community also converted to Christianity at this time (R. Maryks, 'The Jesuit Order as a Synagogue of Jews', p. 2; C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 15; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p.

95-169; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 146-153, 168-190, 266-267, 297; Pero López de Ayala, 'Chronicle of King Pedro Volumes 1 - 3', p. 167-170)

1391 A.D. - Valencia, Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled/self-deport after nationwide riots against Jews initiated by Ferran Martinez in Seville; the first city to be attacked in Aragon; like Barcelona, this pogrom had much more of an economic tone and origin to it than some of the previous pogroms, although the Jews were still given the choice to either convert to Christianity or die (or voluntarily exile); the lower classes were deeply indebted to the Jews of this city, and the city itself had been the scene of a long, bloody Civil War since 1367 with the invading army of King Pedro I "The Cruel" of Castile; after news arrives in Valencia of the pogroms already happening in Castile and Andalusia, the Valencians were anxious to get their own chance at the Jews; and in retaliatory fashion the Jews themselves armed up in preparation; eventually there developed a confrontation where 50 Christians became locked inside of the gate of the juderia, and the Jews inside refused to listen to the demands of the King's brother, Don Martin, Duke of Montblanch, for the Jews to let the 50 Valencians that they had hostage free; eventually twelve or so Valencians were murdered by the Jews, who were apparently claiming "self-defense" during all of this; 250 Jews in total are eventually killed, while many Jews, it is said, took to the mountains or to ships already in the port in order to leave Valencia for safer grounds elsewhere; the overwhelming majority (7,000 total) were saved to death by converting to Christianity; this conversion marked the total extinction of the Jewish community in Valencia (C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 15; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 95-169; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 153-156)

1391 A.D. - Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled (partially) from various cities (including Saragossa, Barcelona, Palma, Majorca, Gerona, Lerida, Perpignan etc) after pogroms initiated originally in Seville; however, this series of Aragonese pogroms occurs following a period of "illusory peace" after the first series which started in Seville and ended with the Valencian pogroms above were concluded; the various city councils hated the rioters and the riots, but most members of the councils did not go too far in curbing their actions either, because they feared the mob of the "little people" much more than they feared the wrath of the King of Aragon, Juan I; in Perpignan, the city councilers so feared the mob that they urged the King to see to it that all the Jews convert, so to thereby finally put an end to all the recent disorders (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 15, 248; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 95-169; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 146-147; 156-160, 166)

was not anywhere in Aragon at the time; Netanyahu says that these pogroms were the greatest ones that entire year in all of Aragon; these pogroms were supposedly started by 50 Castilians- one of them Martinez nephew allegedly- who came through Valencia originally in order to get to Barcelona in order to destroy records of Sevillian debt to Jewish bankers in Barcelona; this particular pogrom more than others seems to be due to economic motivations on the part of the lower (although some of the middle) class, or as they're often called by Jewish historiography, the "little people", who the Jews had already made miserable by entrapping deep in debt; during the pogroms the financial records of the Jews were the first thing destroyed by fire by these "little people"; some of the wealthier Jews were able to find shelter during the pogrom at the castles of the wealthier gentiles, but this expulsion is interesting because many of the Jews who converted to Christianity at this time were actually the wealthy Jews, who remained and continued to prosper in the city as "New Christians" in the century ahead; most of the city patricians and wealthy people at this time were anxious to punish the culprits of the pogroms against Jews, although some of them were secretly joyful indeed; thus, only 10 of the original 50 Castilians who started the pogrom were sentenced to death; soon after the expulsion, the King of Aragon Martin invited Jews back to resettle with tax/land incentives, but they would be expelled again in 1395 (C. Roth, 'A History of the Marranos', p. 15; Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 194; Vol. II, p. 95-169; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 69, 153, 157-161; Elka Klein, 'Jews, Christian Society, and Royal Power in Medieval Barcelona' p. 192-196)

1391 A.D. - Lleida (or Lerida) (and other smaller towns/cities), Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled (partially) after anti-Jewish mobs turned furiously against the city officials for siding with Jews and forcibly removed many of them from office killing many Jews in the process; also killing the Governor of Lerida for having gave the Jews of the city refuge in the alcazar (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 95-169; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 157)

1391 A.D. - Gerona, Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled (partially)/forced to convert; as with all the other Iberian pogroms of this year, the Jews were attacked on the momentum of the earlier anti-Jewish pogroms that began in Seville; unlike some of the earlier pogroms, however, in Gerona, Jews were initially told to either convert to Christianity or "leave the city", which many Jews voluntarily did; many Jews still martyred themselves here though like all the other previous cases in 1391 (Herve Ryssen, 'History of Anti-Semitism', p. 206-209; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 95-169; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 157)

1391 A.D. - Palermo, Italy - Jews Expelled for spreading Heresy (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 248)

1392 A.D. - Santa Maria la Blanca, Burgos, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled; after the riots of 1391, just 14 months later Jews were evicted, mass-arrested, and thrown into private jails by members of the city council; this additional harrassment was meant to be a future deterrent to Jews desiring to live in the area as well as a present threat to Jews living in adjacent areas that even the power of King Enrique III of Castile could not save them as much as he surely attempted to in order to please the Jews; the city officials just ignored the newly won "equality" of the Conversos (Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 266-267)

1392 A.D. - Monte S. Giuliano, Italy - Jews Expelled/Forced Baptism (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 248)

1392 A.D. - Catania, Italy - Jews Expelled for "backsliding" Marannos (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 248)

1392 A.D. - Trapani, Italy - Jews Expelled for "backsliding" Marannos (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 248)

1392 A.D. - Syracuse, Italy - Jews Expelled for "backsliding" Marannos (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 248)

1392 A.D. - Palermo, Italy - Jews Expelled again (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 248)

1392 A.D. - Berne, Switzerland - Jews Expelled (<http://www.jewishvirtuallibrary.org/berne>)

1393 A.D. - Pisa, Italy - Jews Expelled; houses sacked for Usury (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 132)

1393 A.D. - Cervera, Catalonia, Spain - Jews Expelled (unsuccessful) by municipal authorities, however King John I intervened and said that the community, which had already been ruined, and the houses, which had already been taken over by Christians, formally be restored to the Jews; the King said that it was "highly offensive" that the municipal councilors had attempted this expulsion on their own without his consultation; John's reasoning seems to be mainly financial in that the loss of this community of Jews would have caused untold losses to the king and government of Catalonia (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 122-123)

1394 A.D. - Carcassone, France - Jews expelled (<https://archive.is/CbxIn>)

1394 A.D. - Perpignan, Aragon, Spain - Jews and Conversos Expelled due to riots and complaints from the warden of the of the castle which the Jews had been hiding in for the past three years (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 108-109)

1394 A.D. - Germany - Jews Expelled (P.E. Grosser/E.G. Halperin, 'Anti-Semitism: Causes and Effects, 1978)

1394 A.D. - Venice, Italy - Jews Expelled (<http://www.jewishvirtuallibrary.org/venice-italy-jewish-history-tour>)

1394 A.D. - Mestre, Italy - Jews Expelled due to banking complaints (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 185)

1394 A.D. - France - Jews Expelled by King Charles VI through his Regent Louis of Anjou for purchasing a consecrated host; so as Jews were expelled from all royal lands under Charles' domain, there were still traditional French lands like Perpignan which offered these exiled Jews a home after the expulsion; Perpignon was then under Papal jurisdiction, and although the Papal/Avagnese Schism was then developing, hard-liners on the JQ like Paul of Burgos failed at convincing the Pope Benedict XIII to demand either conversion or expulsion from them too just like Charles formerly did; the Cardinal of Pamplona, Martin Salva, a confidant of Pope Benedict XIII, prevented Paul of Burgos from implementing this conversion/expulsion plan; and although many of these exiled Jews did in fact convert to Christianity during this time, overall this expulsion was incomplete as far as France as a whole (William C. Jordan, 'The French Monarchy and the Jews: From Philip Augustus to the Last Capetians', p. 180; Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 33; Zosa Szajkowski, 'Jews and the French Revolutions of 1789, 1830, and 1848', p. 220, 235-236; Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 40; Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 172-173)

1395 A.D. - Barcelona, Catalonia, Spain - Jews Expelled after unsuccessful attempt to re-establish the community by King John I following the country-wide pogroms against Jews in 1391; this expulsion seems to be a mutual disagreement between the new King Martin and whatever Jews were left after the wealthy members and their families had all converted to Christianity; this expulsion was made official in 1401, where Martin formally forbade the re-establishment of any future Jewish community, and in 1424 a special "privilege" was granted to the municipality by King Alfonso V which confirmed the Jewish ban in perpetuity (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 120-121)

1396 A.D. - Fermo, Italy - Jews Expelled when the Ghibellines sacked the town (C. Roth, 'The History of Jews of Italy', p. 142)

1397 A.D. - Basel, Switzerland - Jews Expelled (Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780 p. 50)

1398 A.D. - Fraga, Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled (36) due to the inability to pay communal debt (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 123-124)

1401 A.D. - The Palatinate, Germany - Jews Expelled, but returned very shortly (Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780 p. 50)

1401 A.D. - Thuringia, Germany - Jews Expelled (Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780 p. 50)

1403 A.D. - Marsala, Italy - Jews Expelled (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy, p. 248)

1410 A.D. - various German Principalities - Jews Expelled for planning the Ritual Murder of a Christian boy (Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 40)

1410 A.D. - Segovia, Castile, Spain - Jews accused of Host Desecration; many Jews were implicated including their chief leader, Don Meir Alguades, formerly physician to King Enrique III of Castile; Aguades and other confessed under torture and were all hanged as well as drawn and quartered; included in this case of Host Desecration is the fact that during the trial, the Jews tried to poison the Bishop of Segovia, Don Juan de Tordesillas, who was the judge of the aforesaid case; Tordesillas claimed that the Jews bribed his cook to kill him by poisoning his food, and additional Jews were arrested, confessed, and executed (Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 181, 228)

1411 A.D. - Taranto, Italy - Jews Expelled after pogrom (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 271)

1411-1418 A.D. - Toledo, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled (partially) after Dominican Vincent Ferrar starts his famous campaign to convert all of Spain's Jews, which was judged at the time to be the best and fastest way to end the ongoing Avignon Schism; in this instance Ferrar while preaching in Toledo, and while emphasizing physical separation between Jewish and Christian residents, he stormed into the Toledan Synagogue and expelled the Jews from the Synagogue itself, and thereupon it was consecrated as a Church; many Jews converted to Christianity at this time, and these were mostly from among the social and economic elites (Benzyon Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 187, 297, 1222)

1413 A.D. - Polizzi, Italy - Jews Expelled (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy, p. 248)

1414 A.D. - Guadalajara, Spain - Jews Expelled/"completely wiped out during the persecutions of 1414" (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. I, p. 199)

1414 A.D. - Daroca, Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled locally by bishop after Vincent Ferrer toured the area preaching against the Jews; the local Christians eventually settle on the ultimatum of "conversion or expulsion", and about 40 families total are expelled; of course even here the Infante Don Alfonso apologizes for the Jews and attempts to get the ones expelled back by offering freedom from debt and taxes for a period of a few years; I can find no confirmation either way however on how many if any Jews actually do return back to this city (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 230-231)

1414 A.D. - Goslar, Lower Saxony, Germany - Jews Expelled (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 433)

1444 A.D. - Giessen, Germany - Jews Expelled (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 442)

1446 A.D. - Bavaria, Germany - Jews Expelled (Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780 p. 50)

1446 A.D. - Brandenburg, Germany - Jews Expelled (Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780 p. 50)

1446 A.D. - Berlin, Germany - Jews Expelled (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 36)

1449 A.D. - Rothenburg, Germany - Jews Expelled, but return shortly (Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780 p. 50)

1449 A.D. - Toledo, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled; Jews and Marranos massacred by Old Christians after causing rebellion against King Juan II of Trastamara; the pogroms were led by Pero Sarmiento, a noble from Toledo, and Marcos Garcia de Mora, a lawyer who took up the cause of the middle and lower classes who had been preyed upon for decades by Jewish tax-farmers; this was not a spontaneous outbreak of violence against the Jews and Conversos, but rather this extremely popular and populist hatred against the Jews had been long in the making; Netanyahu says that a "general pogrom was avoided", however there was still continuous violence against Jews and New Christians both, and daily expulsions and confiscations; this was after Conversos had already enslaved Toledo's Old Christians financially for decades, and after Toledo and many other Castilian cities had formally protested repeatedly to the King that he- through Alvaro de Luna- was giving the New Christians too much political power; these repeated protests had always fallen on deaf ears, and so when people are limited from protesting verbally the protests themselves always turn to non-verbal violence; the rebellion started after Jew-friendly Alvaro de Luna tried to enact a new tax on Old Christians, and the tax-farmer for Toledo was a New Christian (Alonso Cota) who tried to implement the new tax; many of the Jews expelled are of prominent and even "noble" families like the San Pedro clan; however this was not a complete expulsion; Martz's book makes mention of "14 families", but other sources give only 11 Jewish or New Christian families (R. Maryks, 'The Jesuit Order as a Synagogue of Jews', p. 2-3; C. Roth, 'A History of The Marranos', p. 32-33; Linda Martz, 'A Network of Converso Families in Early Modern Toledo: Assimilating a Minority', p. 23-28; Benzion Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 254-351)

1449 A.D. - Ciudad Real, Castile, Spain - Converso Jews expelled and their quarters sacked by the Order of Calatrava after Jews were discovered taking over financial administration; this pogrom happened after the Rebellion in Toledo had been going on for months, so easily what happened in Toledo above spread to other cities, and Toledo proved that the yoke of Jewish/New Christian oppression could be thrown off successfully if not only briefly (two weeks); Netanyahu says that this was the biggest pogrom in Spain since some of the pogroms in 1391; there were popular calls and slogans of "Kill the conversos!" and "Sack their homes!"; the Jews lived in the richest district and houses in the city, and they were dispossessed and encouraged to emigrate elsewhere; 22 New Christians were killed during the two week period that this pogrom lasted (C. Roth, 'A History of The Marranos', p. 32-33; Benzion Netanyahu, 'The Origins of the Inquisition in Fifteenth Century Spain', p. 330-331)

1449 A.D. - Lisbon, Portugal - Jews Massacred/Self-deported (C. Roth, 'A History of The Marranos', p. 54)

1450 A.D. - Lower Bavaria, Germany - Jews Expelled (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 35; Michael A. Meyer, 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780 p. 50)

1451 A.D. - Messina, Italy - Jews Expelled for excesses in banking, trade, brokerage, moneylending (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy, p. 250)

1453-1454 A.D. - Breslau, Germany - Jews Expelled for Host Desecration after John of Capistrano informs the masses of Jewish evil (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 35; Michael A. Meyer- 'German-Jewish History in Modern Times: Volume I Tradition and Enlightenment, 1600-1780, p. 48; Selma Stern, 'The Court Jew: A Contribution to the History of Period of Absolutism in Central Europe', p. 217-

1454 A.D. - Valladolid, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled (unsuccessful); this was a ritual murder trial that happened in 1454 where King Henry IV intervened (despite a full confession and investigation) in order to quash the expulsion order; in Alfonso de Espina's famous anti-Jewish book  Fortalitium Fidei , he makes note of the fact that "two out of the three judges on the king's court were descended from conversos" and that the expulsion order continually postponed and eventually rendered legally useless "under the guidance of those wicked judges" (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 287)

1454 A.D. - Brunn, Germany - Jews Expelled for Ritual Murder (Bell and Burnett, ' Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 36)

1480-1487 A.D. - Deutz, Cologne, Germany - Jews Expelled because of pressure of clergy (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 35-37)

1481 A.D. - Seville, Andalusia, Spain - Jews Expelled/self-deport; after an epidemic of plague, many Jewish conversos fled the city after leaving pledges of money or property as collateral saying that they would return; but the Jews instead found refuge with various nobles throughout larger Andalusia; this happened in the context of King Ferdinand II of Aragon establishing the Inquisition earlier, and its policies in terms of the Jews and the Converso Problem becoming much more harsh to the point where Jews thought they needed the direct protection of the nobles against the threat of both Inquisition, Ferdinand, and the regular local people who constantly wanted to pogrom or expel the Jews; the chronicler Andreu Bernaldez estimated the number of conversos who fled the city of Seville alone at 8,000 (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 326-327, which sources from Andres Bernaldez in his famous history of the Catholic Monarchs; Linda Martz, 'A Network of Converso Families in Early Modern Toledo: Assimilating a Minority', p. 60)

1481 A.D. - Jerez de la Frontera, Andalusia, Spain - Jews Expelled/self-deport; after an epidemic of plague, many Jewish conversos fled the city after leaving pledges of money or property as collateral saying that they would return; but the Jews instead found refuge with various nobles throughout larger Andalusia; this happened in the context of King Ferdinand II of Aragon establishing the Inquisition earlier, and its policies in terms of the Jews and the Converso Problem becoming much more harsh to the point where Jews thought they needed the direct protection of the nobles against the threat of both Inquisition, Ferdinand, and the regular local people who constantly wanted to pogrom or expel the Jews (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 327, which sources from Andres Bernaldez in his famous history of the Catholic Monarchs)

1483 A.D. - Mainz, Germany - Jews Expelled (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 35)

1483-1484 A.D. - Andalusia, Spain - Jews Expelled by King Ferdinand II of Aragon; this edict was against both conversos as well as regular Jews although it was officially worded as a "partial" expulsion, and although it was largely unsuccessful in total, there was an actual official edict drawn up by Ferdinand after what is called the Arbues Affair, where Jews murdered a prominent Spanish Inquisitor Pedro de Arues; it was written in the official expulsion order that the government had literally tried everything previously to get the Jewish Problem under control, but that it was now felt by everyone throughout Andalusia that there was only one option to curbing the extreme amount of Jewish Power (deemed the largest throughout all of Spain): Expulsion; this expulsion order was also alluded to numerous times in the famous 1492 Expulsion from all Spain where it was documented that local expulsions were tried and successfully executed, but however the Jewish Threat had still remained so strong by 1492 that that order was all that could be done to finally prevent the Jews from taking over everything (Benjamin R. Gampel, 'Crisis and Creativity in the Sephardic World, 1391-1648', p. 86, 318; Thomas Price, 'Torquemada: The Scourge of the Jews', p. 193; Benzion Netanyahu, 'Don Isaac Abravanel: Statesman & Philosopher', p. 48, 277; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain, Vol. II', p. 320, 330-331; For Seville: Thomas Hope, 'Torquemada: Scourge of the Jews', p. 121; J.H. 1484 A.D. - Hesse, Germany - Jews Expelled (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 35)

1484 A.D. - Warsaw, Poland - Jews Expelled; all minor children were taken by the King to be raised as Christians (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 35; Martin A. Cohen, 'The Canonization of a Myth: Portugal's "Jewish Problem" and the Assembly of Tomar 1629', p. 40)

1484-1485 A.D. - Cella, Castile, Spain - Jews Expelled by Dominican friar, Juan de Solivera (or Colivera), who was put in charge of the new court directly under Torquemada; this small village was close to the city of Teurel, and Teurel was making it difficult to set up Torquemada's Inquisition, so Solivera used Cella as a staging ground basically for his upcoming military assault on Teurel, and during this time was when the Jews of Cella were banished (Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 364-365)

1485 A.D. - Bamberg, Germany - Jews Expelled (Bell and Burnett, 'Jews, Judaism, and The Reformation in Sixteenth Century Germany', p. 35)

1486 A.D. - Gubbio, Italy - Jews Expelled (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 175)

1486 A.D. - Saragossa, Aragon, Spain - Jews Expelled by King Ferdinand II of Aragon after Inquisitor-General Torquemada recommends after the Arbues Affair, in which Jews successfully conspired to have two inquisitors assassinated including Arbues; King Ferdinand orders the expulsion of Jews from the entire archbishopric, as a "foreshadowing" of the "final solution" in 1492; this expulsion never takes place either though because the Jews bribe the local officials (Norman Roth, 'Medieval Jewish Civilization: An Encyclopedia', p. 35; Benjamin R. Gampel, 'Crisis and Creativity in the Sephardic World, 1391-1648', p. 87; Thomas Hope, 'Torquemada: Scourge of the Jews', p. 121, 193; Benzion Netanyahu, 'Don Isaac Abravanel: Statesman & Philosopher', p. 277; Yitzhak Baer, 'A History of the Jews in Christian Spain', Vol. II, p. 380-381; on the Arbues Affair, see Baer, Vol. II, p. 367-371)

1558 A.D. - Ancona, Italy - All Jews Expelled; this was additional to the earlier expulsion of the Marranos two years previous; this expulsion was the result of the Pope giving the Duke of Urbino an ultimatum in which the Duke accepted; and this expulsion was largely the result of the Jewess Dona Gracia Nasi declaring "holy war" against Christendom and the Church, as the expulsion was one aspect of the Pope fighting back against the financial assault on the Church by the Jews under the direction of Gracia Nasi; this expulsion was also accompanied by a general debt forgiveness to any debts owed the Jewish bankers (C. Roth, 'The History of the Jews of Italy', p. 299, 301-302; Aron Di Leone Leoni, 'The Hebrew Portuguese Nations in Antwerp and London at the time of Charles V and Henry VIII: New Documents and Interpretations', 104-105)

1819 A.D. - Wurzburg, Bavaria, Germany - Jews Pogromed/self-deport "in droves out of the city" after the "Hep Hep" riots directed against a newly emancipated Eastern Jewry; the riots started in front of the house of the Court Jew Jacob Hirsch in Wurzburg but soon spread to other cities such as Hamburg, Wuerttemberg, Baden, Frankfurt, Heidelberg, Bamberg, Bayreuth, Darmstadt, Mannheim, Bruchsal, Karlsruhe, Cologne, Duesseldorf, and Copenhagen; Abraham Bing, the city's rabbi, fled with the pupils of his Yeshiva to the village of Weikersheim; afterwards no Jews were to be seen in Wurzburg because they had either fled or were in hiding; these riots against Jewry were distinctly economic in tone and motive as they were led by a mixture of working class laborers and craftsmen directed against the growing Jewish dominance in the fields of Industry, Banking, and other Mercantile activity; in Wurzburg the source of the ferment began in the circles of "self-serving ruthless merchants" who made it a practice to "massively undercut the prices of virtually everything that was for sale with their wares", and it was with Jewish businessmen of this sort that the natives of Germany had to now suddenly compete, thus establishing a growing sentiment of resentment within the general populace, which suddenly exploded during the "Hep Hep" riots that year; there was also just general resentment at the Jews for being able to so easily just "purchase" political equality with regular Germans (E. Michael Jones, 'Barren Metal: A History of Capitalism as the Conflict Between Labor and Usury', p. 865-886;

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hep-Hep\_riots)

1819 A.D. - Hamburg, Germany - Jews Pogromed/self-deport; see entry above for Wurzburg in the Hep Hep riots of 1819; most Jews of Hamburg flee to Altona, which was then under Danish administration; unlike the French Revolution, the riots of 1819 were a true Worker's Rebellion in the mold of the Ciompi Rebellion and the Rebellions of Wat Tyler and the Jacquerie; the Prussian official who did the official investigation into the Hep Hep riots pointed out the real cause of the violence was "bread envy", which is to say, the fear that the Jews were going to destroy their Christian economic competitors' ability to earn a living (E. Michael Jones, 'Barren Metal: A History of Capitalism as the Conflict Between Labor and Usury', p. 877-886)

1875 A.D. - Izmir, Ottoman Empire - Jews accused of Ritual Murder (Tracy K Harris, 'Death of a Language', p. 43)

1881-1884 A.D. - Odessa (and 166 other towns), Ukraine - Jews self-Deport/Pogromed after the assassination of Russian Czar Alexander II; Jews including Hesya Helfman had been involved in the assassination conspiracy; at this time there were also many millions of peasants indebted to Jewish moneylenders, so that too played a role in Slavic animosity against Jewry; Russian Minister of the Interior Nikolay Pavlovich Ignatyev declared that the pogroms were a protest by the rural population against Jewish exploitation; the new Tsar Alexander III initially blamed revolutionaries and the Jews themselves for the riots and in May 1882 issued the May Laws, a series of harsh restrictions on Jews; pogroms continued for more than three years and were thought to have benefited from at least the tacit support of the authorities, although there were also attempts by the Russian government to end the rioting (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Odessa\_pogroms;

1881-1884 A.D. - Kiev (and more than 200 other towns), Russia - Jews self-Deport/Pogromed after the assassination of Russian Czar Alexander II; Jews including Hesya Helfman had been involved in the assassination conspiracy; at this time there were also many millions of peasants indebted to Jewish moneylenders, so that too played a role in Slavic animosity against Jewry; Kiev's pogrom against the Jews was considered the worst of all the pogroms that happened throughout this period; Russian Minister of the Interior Nikolay Pavlovich Ignatyev declared that the pogroms were a protest by the rural population against Jewish exploitation; the new Tsar Alexander III initially blamed revolutionaries and the Jews themselves for the riots and in May 1882 issued the May Laws, a series of harsh restrictions on Jews; pogroms continued for more than three years and were thought to have benefited from at least the tacit support of the authorities, although there were also attempts by the Russian government to end the rioting (Alex Bein, 'The Jewish Question: Biography of a World Problem', p. 265; https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pogroms\_in\_the\_Russian\_Empire)

1881-1884 A.D. - Warsaw (and other towns), Poland - Jews self-Deport/Pogromed after the assassination of Russian Czar Alexander II; Jews including Hesya Helfman had been involved in the assassination conspiracy; at this time there were also many millions of peasants indebted to Jewish moneylenders, so that too played a role in Slavic animosity against Jewry; in some cities the Russian authorities called the Army in to put down these riots against Jewry; Russian Minister of the Interior Nikolay Pavlovich Ignatyev declared that the pogroms were a protest by the rural population against Jewish exploitation; the new Tsar Alexander III initially blamed revolutionaries and the Jews themselves for the riots and in May 1882 issued the May Laws, a series of harsh restrictions on Jews

1891 A.D. - Moscow, Russia - Jews Expelled (20,000) by Governor Grand Duke Sergei (David I. Goldstein, 'Dostoyevsky and the Jews', p. 131)

1898 A.D. - Rennes, France - Jews Expelled after mob attack (need source)

1903-1906 A.D. - Russia - Jews Pogromed/self-deport; this series of pogroms affected 64 towns (including Odessa, Yekaterinoslav, Kiev, Kishinev, Simferopol, Romny, Kremenchug, Nikolayev, Chernigov, Kamenets-Podolski, Yelizavetgrad), and 626 small towns; an estimated 2,000 Jews dead and many more wounded; the riots started on Easter and were led in many places by priests who chanted "Kill the Jews!" throughout the streets; Jews and Jewish historians commonly like to claim that these pogroms were either incited or supported by the Czar or the local administration, but there's really nothing to support this except a few personal claims made by actual Jewish Communists, and serious, honest, mainstream historians basically just state the pogroms were mostly spontaneous while it is true that in many places government officials did at least tacitly support the uprising against Jews ; the 1903 Kishinev pogrom, also known as the Kishinev Massacre, in present-day Moldova killed 47–49 persons, and it provoked an international outcry after it was publicized by The Times and The New York Times; then there was a second, smaller Kishinev pogrom in 1905; this series of pogroms is generally thought to have been either organized or at least condoned by the authorities, however this view has been frequently challenged by authoritative historians such as Hans Rogger, I. Michael Aronson and John Klier, who all couldn't find such sanctions documented in the Russian State Archives; the pogroms themselves caused many millions of Jews to emigrate either to Western Europe or to the United States

(https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pogroms\_in\_the\_Russian\_Empire; )

1905 A.D. - Odessa, Ukraine - Jews Pogromed/self-deport; the worst anti-Jewish pogrom in Odessa's history in which over 400 Jews were killed and 1,600 Jewish properties destroyed; this pogrom was part of a larger and longer series of pogroms against specifically the Jews all across Russia and parts of Eastern Europe; the causes range from economic in nature to the Jews' backing of Japan in the war against Russia to Jewish celebration of the October Manifesto; overall, Jews possessed great wealth, power, and influence in Odessa being about 35% of the total population in 1897, and it was this power which disenfranchised Greeks and Russians to the point where frustration erupted very violently; the pogromists demanded Jewish compensation to non-Jews for recent economic misery as well as permanent disarmament of Jews within the city of Odessa; protesters began to take out their anger on Odessa's Jews, identifying them as the root of Russia's troubles, and when a group of Jews asked a few Russian workers to show respect to a red flag, a fight broke out on the streets that soon turned into an all-out anti-Jewish riot; immediately after the pogrom, many Jews emigrated from Odessa and Ukraine to Western Europe, and more went to the United States in the following years (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Odessa\_pogroms;

1951-1952 A.D. - Baghdad, Iraq - Jews Expelled (120,000) under the De-Naturalization Act of Iraqi Prime Minister Tawfig as-Suwaydi due to Jews having too much influence over the economy; 130,000 Jews lived in the Iraq of 1949, with about 90,000 residing in Baghdad. The Baghdad Chamber of Commerce listed 2,430 member companies. A third were Jewish; and, in fact, a third of the chamber's board and almost all of its employees were Jewish. Jewish firms transacted 45 percent of the exports and nearly 75 percent of the imports. A quarter of all Iraqi Jews worked in transportation, such as the railways and port administration. The controller of the budget was Jewish. A key director of the Iraqi National Bank was Jewish. The Currency Office board members were all Jewish. The Foreign Currency Committee was about 95 percent Jewish. Over the centuries, Jews had become essential to the economy; upon exit Jewish assets were frozen; to make sure Jews could not touch their funds, the government ordered the banks closed for three days; this was a cause of "great jubilation" in the streets of Iraq, and the Jews were "mocked every step of the way" (<https://www.timesofisrael.com/the-expulsion-that-backfired-when-iraq-kicked-out-its-jews/>)
