I used a vinegar and soap mix to kill the weeds each morning driveway is without question the sidewalk up for the house. This worked really well, I started shocked. I made a decision not to employ a this mixture in a garden because I read that lots of people will kill anything it lands on, and Trouble trust myself to not get it on the vegetables (we obviously didn't want to kill those). So, within garden I could a mixture of organic mulch (grass clippings, wood chips, etc.) in order to prevent the sun from progressing to the fresh mushrooms. SkepticalDan.com worked pretty suitably. I am not saying it prevented all the weeds, made it very easy for me and my wife to pick the few that did sprout up manually.
