

Olympic basketball dream team + hockey scuffle

It was also superstars Stephen Curry and LeBron James who got the team out of the quagmire.

He is on the verge of becoming a scapegoat for an unexpected event, but he narrows the score little by little.

In the end, about three minutes before the end, LeBron James tied the game with a bold breakthrough.

Stephen Curry presented the U.S. with a come-from-behind victory.

After making space with his unique movement, he received LeBron's pass and scored a three-point shot. 토토사이트 순위

Curry, who was sluggish throughout his first career Olympics, scored 36 points against Serbia. LeBron also helped by achieving a triple-double.

The result was 95–91, and the U.S. advanced to the final by overturning a game that once had a 17-point lead.

The U.S. is trying to win its fifth consecutive Olympics against host France.

Netherlands' Ducotelgengamf, who scored the last point of the penalty shootout to determine the men's hockey championship, runs to the German goalkeeper and makes a hand gesture to 'be quiet'.

Seeing this, German players rushed towards Telgenkamp, leading to a physical collision.

A physical fight that is rarely seen on the Olympic stage.

It was a scene where the Olympic spirit of comforting the loser and congratulating the winner was frowned upon.