The majority of Dunitech's real estate tokenization project problems.

People believe that investing in real estate is difficult because it necessitates extensive research. The use of blockchain technology to tokenize real estate has simplified the process. Physical assets would be transformed into security tokens or digital shares during this tokenization process, and they would either represent a single asset or a share of multiple assets.https://www.dunitech.com/RealEstate-Tokenization.aspx.