Extramarks Education offers a broad variety of opportunities for students to enhance their educational life and progress in their school by better understanding the multiple topics in their curricula. Atul Kulshrestha established the firm in 2007 and has served learners of all classes ever since. The firm is recognized worldwide and this counts for its trustworthiness. Different applications for individual purposes were developed by Extramarks Education. Examples include the Kids Learning App, The Learning App, EMILY, IIT JEE Test Prep App, CA Foundation App, etc. All these apps have been serving millions of users with quality online learning and helping them develop in their academic lives by becoming more efficient by studying in a more engaging and interactive manner. The Learning App by Extramarks Education has more than six million downloads. CBSE and ICSE Boards are both present in the app and students can choose the curriculum that their school follows. For the educational material, you don't have to scavenge the internet because Extramarks Education makes everything accessible in one location to its user. Education available online helped millions of students to improve their academic lives. The videos and modules submitted by Extramarks Education on the app and on Youtube assist users to experience learning in the most enjoyable ways. An Extramarks Education professional staff curates everything available on the app and the website. They are specialists from various fields of education as well as other technical fields. The 3500 experts are all personnel members at Extramarks Education in the fields of design, animation and many more. The company aims to offer students with top-quality training both on its website and on the various applications developed by the company. As an educational accompaniment, the apps created by the company help a student to improve his/her educational skills and are always readily accessible, that is, at any time of the day and at any place. The apps have a number of properties, such as progress tracking, which enables the app to monitor the student's progress and to personalize the student's improvement. This allows the student to assess himself better and to understand his own weaknesses and strengths, thus helping the student to work on things that he should be
