Using Drupal for Blogging, Here's how?

Setting up a blog with Drupal Development Services is an easy one as it does not require much technical knowledge. With access to the right tools and techniques, you can easily set up and start designing the content for the target audience. To begin, you will need a web host, a website name, and a sound concept of the blog. Apart from these basics, you will have to select a suitable web host, install Drupal on your system, and build the blog. Let's understand the process in detail.

Read More at: https://www.mrmmbsvision.com/blog/using-drupal-for-blogging-here-how-to-start