What Should I do?

The reason why most entrepreneurs fail in their business is the lack of understanding of how to do it! As the famous saying goes, 'Smart work is more important than hard work!' Let us see how you can reap huge profits out of your investment!

Once you decide to launch an Uber-like business, you need to know that there are two common ways to do it. You can either develop an app like Uber from scratch or get an Uber clone script for your business. Building an app from scratch can be very tedious and time-consuming. It requires you to shell out a lot of money. The Time To Market could be relatively longer too! On the other hand, if you go for an Uber clone app, you can cut down on the development cost as well as the Time To Market.

What to do?

If you want to take in huge profits with minimal investment, I would suggest you go for Uber clone solutions. However, there exists a cut-throat competition in the industry. So, to stand out from the crowd, you need to make sure that your uber clone is attractive and unique.

The following are some distinguishing features you can add to your Uber clone app.

Carpooling

Allow users to share their ride with others. There are various benefits of carpooling: It is eco-friendly. It is less expensive when compared to solo rides. It promotes socializing.

Prime membership

You can provide this feature for people who have been using your app for a long time. Prime members can be offered free rides, offers, discount coupons, and vouchers from time to time.

Waitlist

One significant problem that users might face is during the search for a vehicle. When there is none available, the search stops, and the users need to put up a new request. Instead, you can allow them to waitlist their request so that the app notifies them once the match is successful.

Request driver

The app matches the drivers and customers with a random algorithm. This 'request driver' feature lets the users request for their favorite driver, provided the requested driver is still an employee.

Special options for riders

You can let your customers request a wheelchair for the benefit of the elderly people and the physically challenged. They can also request baby seats if they are traveling with toddlers.

How much will it cost?

As said earlier, the uber clone app would cost relatively less than developing an entire app, as you do not have to focus much on the development part. All you need to do is get an Uber clone script and modify it according to your business requirements. You will have to add, delete, or modify the features to cope up with the latest trends in the industry. However, the cost to develop an Uber clone app will vary according to your requirements.

The following are some of the aspects that influence the development cost.

- Geographic location
- Feature set
- Expected time of delivery
- Experience of the development team
- Size of the development team
- Impact factor
