

The Dancing Butterflies

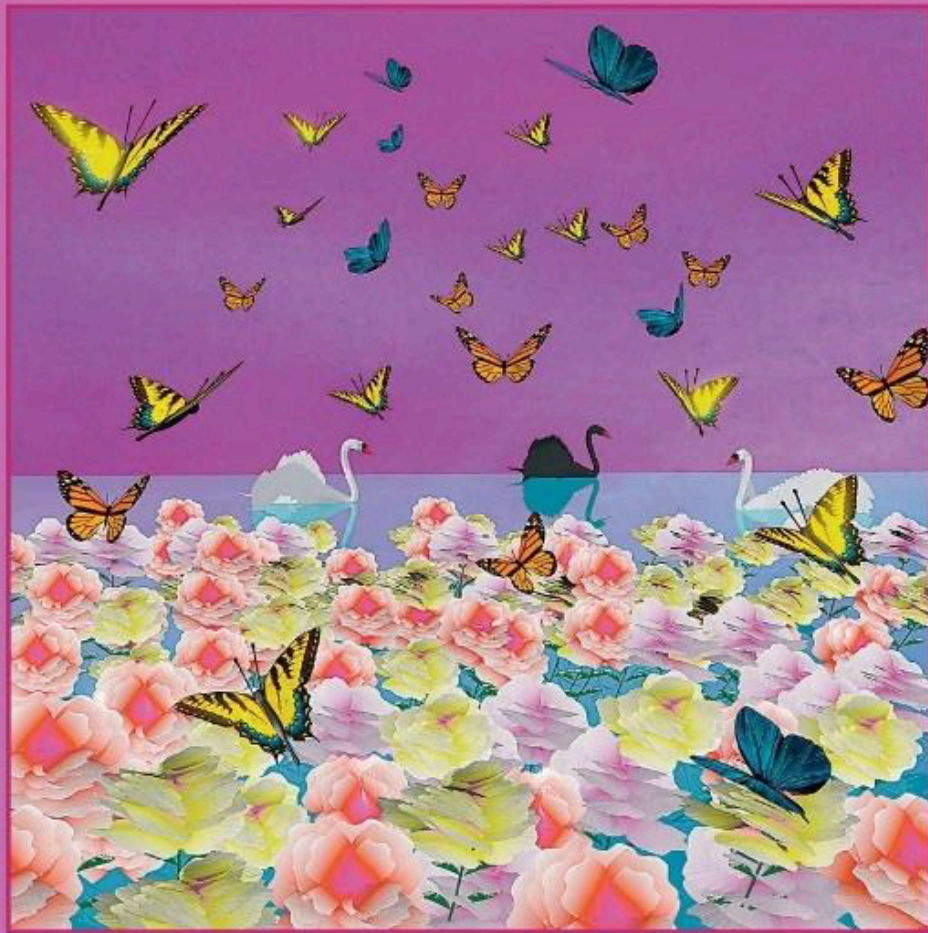

Writing and illustrating for children is like stepping into a new dimension that transcends time and space, a world full of imagination and colors. I hope that we will take this wonder-filled journey together.

Throughout my childhood, I experienced the joy of being surrounded by nature, the vivid colors of aromatic flowers and fruit trees blossoming each spring and summer; the exuberant beauty of sweet-scented roses, petunias, carnations, lilies, daffodils, dazzling lilacs, tulips, and red poppies.

I quickly became fond of the gracefully fluttering butterflies, red and yellow ladybugs, delicate dragonflies, glowing fireflies, the musical lullaby of crickets, fluffy clouds, and brilliant rainbows.

Read full article here: <https://www.reflectionorg.com/the-dancing-butterflies-post/>

The DANCING BUTTERFLIES

WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED
BY GABRIELLA EVA NAGY