

What Kind Of Fashion Is Popular In Italy? || ShopSofia

Italian fashion has a very long, both modern and classic fashion history. Italian women are quite similar to French women in terms of style because both have an instinctive sense of fashion and pay close attention to the little things that catch our eye. Italian ladies are able to blend fitted items with sneakers, short dresses with bikers, and a blazer with a sweater, diverging from French fashion in favor of individual expression and experimentation. However, the utilization of accessories as a vital component of the entire ensemble, giving them a special place in the appearance, is ultimately what makes this design so distinctive.

Italian fashion's distinguishing features

It's no accident that many of the most well-known fashion companies, including Gucci, Versace, Prada, Fendi, Valentino, and many more, originated in Italy.

The attention to detail, the production, and the high quality of the textiles and other materials used in each piece are what set the Italian style apart from other styles. Of course, we must also emphasize the usage of accessories like luxury bags, the outfit's impeccable proportions, and the capacity to combine various styles.

Italian fashion icons to emulate

Here is a list of several Italian ladies our Personal Shoppers believe are the best at exporting and exploring this look:

Chiara Ferragni

She is the most well-known influencer in the world, with 26 million Instagram followers as of the time of writing this article. She was among the first women to understand that she might gain fame by sharing photos of herself on social media, which gave her a significant advantage. Now that she's a businesswoman, she inspires millions of people to dress stylishly by wearing her clothing.

Giovanna Battaglia

She started out as a model when she was very young, but she quickly transitioned into working as a stylist for Vogue. She is now Swarovski's creative director. She dares to mix different styles while donning exquisitely cut clothing in vivid colors, using her appearance to show her individuality.

Bonaiuti Diletta

She is the king of street style and commands attention at fashion events. She currently works as a highly regarded fashion adviser and stylist and has a line of children's clothing. Using essential wardrobe items like jeans and jackets, she may combine classic and modern fashion.

Rock and elegance

For your first outfit, we advise pairing your black dress with a red biker to enhance the contrast in color and fabric. The outfit will then be completed with a little bag and a pair of large diva sunglasses. If you include a pair of peep-toed shoes, bonus points.
