

Women's shearling jackets with fur hood fuelling fresh fashion trends

Fur sourced from silver fox has heavy demand in fashion industry. The soft, supple and lightweight item is ideal for harsh wintry climatic zones where the temperature remains several degrees below the ice point for months together.

High quality shearling is invariably sourced from young lambs. This is where the fabric differs from wool, which is sourced from fully grown sheep. It is renowned for its soft and supple texture. Moreover it is pretty lightweight and easy to carry. The item provides significant warmth and comfort even in extreme cold. As such it is ideal for harsh chilly winter temperature falling much below the freezing point.

Fusing the two premium items a fascinating range of shearling jackets is fueling the latest fashion trends for women. As of now the product line is available only in two distinct shades – namely tan and burgundy. Many more shades are likely to get introduced any time soon. You can be least assured that the item range justifies value for your money in every possible way and more. Authentic pelts of shearling imported from Turkey in Europe are used in designing the jackets in one hand while on the other original plates of fur sourced from Silver fox are used. The product line is completely crafted by hands. Most importantly it is one of the latest specimens of fine Italian craftsmanship.

Undoubtedly lot of innovation and creativity has gone into making this stylish winter dressing range. The jackets reflect suede-finish and are unbeatably classy and appealing. Maintaining the ideal industry standards the length of shearling hair in the jackets measure 20 mm. One of the most striking features of the item range is the hood, which is richly decked with fur. This fur element undeniably adds a unique sophistication, making the jacket radiate a powerful magnetic charm.

As such this innovative version of women's shearling jackets with fur hood is designed with immense care and love. It strikes the perfect balance between aesthetic appeal and practical functionality. The inner woolen layer of the lambskin fabric is exposed and flipped at certain places on the jacket body. This design feature adds a unique contrast to the product line, making the jacket eye-catching. Moreover fox fur cuffs also décor the jacket at the wrists and the shoulders.

The plush winter wear is assured to withstand temperature as low as -35 degrees F. it is ideal for extreme cold climatic conditions to keep you warm, insulated and comfortable. There are spacious hand-warming side pockets to keep your palms warm in outdoors during cold waves. The innovatively designed stylish ladies' winter wear assures perfect fit for everyone without considering your height or structure. Unlike the standard versions that are available the jacket is readily available in a wide variation of size.

By virtue of innovative designing you can easily replace a proper dress with this stylish jacket. The product line radiates unparalleled style and sophistication to rightly belong to a totally different class of its own. As mentioned above, a group of highly skilled and trained designers based in Italy performed the entire cutting and stitching of the product assortment. The item range reflects absolutely flawless finishing. this denotes the Italian craftsmen worked with unparalleled care, caution, precision and diligence to ensure greater value for your money.

This authentic range of women's shearling jackets with fox fur is smartly cut and stitched. As a result the product line silently but unfailingly underlines the feminine curves and assets of your body in a dignified and polished manner. Above everything else the item range showcases your delicate taste and elegant choice in fashion-related matters.

The item range is guaranteed to be durable even with minimal care and maintenance. This is indeed your most assured option to appear trendier, smarter, younger, sexier, classier, more sophisticated, tasteful, stylish, appealing and elegant.