An e-2 visa lawyer strongly recommends a company plan for an E visa appeal. A business plan is a well-structured text that describes the company's general path to the reader. A solid marketing plan describes what goods and services you will sell, your assets (including people and equipment) and financial capital, your prices, a 3-5-year revenue outlook, and how you can compare to your competitors. There are plenty of organizations that can help you create a business strategy for your company. For your convenience, our office has partnered with trustworthy business strategy writers. Pro-Forma Financial Income Statements covering a five-year duration are also required in addition to a business plan.
