

Chapter 70

Page 1

Pontus - I will show you ... the intensity of the Dunamis that a great god of antiquity possesses ... and how useless it is to try to stop it.

Page 2

Pontus - With the misery of a human being ...

Aiolia - a mass of Dunamis !!

Pontus - According to. I'll take Hyperion with me.

Page 3

Pontus - because he is mine since the beginning. Melas Helix.

Aiolia - It's the same blow as before! Only more powerful !! I will not be able to divert!

Page 4

Aiolia - Hyperion!

Page 5

Hyperion - Prominence Blade

Page 7

Aiolia - Hyperion!

Hyperion - I'm nobody's ...

Aiolia - Hyperion! But how?!

Hyperion - The regeneration power of ouroboros is still alive in me ... although it is about to disappear little time remains ... but I need to talk to you.

Page 8

Hyperion - soon, I will be sent to the Tartarus.... and there, nothing else can do ... so, I'm sorry ... protect my people. In return ... myself ... I will face this adversary.

Pontus - A powerful dunamis still supports his will ...

Hyperion - please ... I do not have enough strength to protect my people. Therefore, beings of the earth ... I want you ... to show him the beauty that exists on the face of the earth.

Page 9

Hyperion - which gives them hope of life ... under the bright light of the sun's rays illuminating the earth.

Pontus - You mean you refuse to be mine until the end? Why do you surrender the future in the hands of humans instead of in the hands of a god?

Hyperion - because people have the ability to choose their own god and live through their own strength.

Hyperion - The power to create their own future, although consuming their already so short lives. It's a miraculous force, which the gods do not possess ... people ... enjoy the infinitude of possibilities. If there is still life left in me and if I should donate mine to someone ... that this someone be the humans ... just as I will give my people to them, so that he becomes as human as they. So you can create a future together

Hyperion - therefore, my dunamis ... will never be yours.

I was the one who gave you those arms and legs. I doubt if I can deal with them. But if you insist on contradicting me.

Page 12

I will have to kill him, then take his physical body, with the dunamis still inside him.

Hyperion - Aiolia! kiss my ass!

Aiolia - Guys like you make me nervous, you know?

Page 13

Aiolia - Use life and death as instruments of ambition !! because you know ... that you do not even have the right to say god !!

Milo - enough! I'm done! How dare you treat life like that? !! prepare yourself, because I I will teach you the value of life !!

Aiolia - Get out, milo !! I'm going to face him !!

Milo - Get out! What do you think you can do, hurt the way you look ?! you beast !!

Aiolia - What?!

Aldebaran - I agree that we can not be left out.

Camus -We can not leave Aiolia fighting alone.

Shaka - As a Saint, I do not like to interfere with someone else's

Shura - But if it is to protect two injured comrades. I'm sure Athena would forgive us

Page 15

Hyperion - to protect me too?

Aiolia - Hyperion !!

Hyperion - that illusion is produced by the dark water that runs inside me. That's why I'm the only one who can defeat him.

Page 16

Hyperion - I will free myself from the dark water ... so I can recover myself.

Aiolia - To break free?!

Pontus - Do you think this is possible? You exist now, thanks to my power. There is no way...

Page 17

Pontus - to escape from me. Melas helix.

Hyperion - No ... there is a way, yes. Make me free means ... face my own destiny and keep advancing ... without being stopped by anyone

Page 18

Hyperion - I am a god who does not belong to constellations or mythologies. But I have recorded in this cosmos, which burns inside my chest .. the great pride of facing you and I promise that I will keep this flame burning for all eternity.

Page 19

Hyperion - The strength that makes me advance comes from the heart that fears no one. Even if, at the end of the road, whatever awaits me

Page 20

Hyperion - just be my own death.

Page 21

Pontus - you great fool !!! Try to escape my domain by dying ?! but this is the same as denying God !!

Hyperion - no one would look like a god ... a being who did not move forward ... protecting his own, without fearing death

Page 22

Hyperion - who would believe in a god ... that doesn't acts with courage?

Aiolia - Hyperion!

Hyperion - with that, the dunamis of Pontus that was mixed with my Ichor had disappeared ... anyway ... I will be just like you. I'll be standing on this earth ... with my own feet. Now ... it's time we kept the promise.

Page 23

Hyperion - you and me! we must end this struggle. agree?

Page 24

Hyperion - get ready! My name ..is Ebony Hyperion

Page 25

Hyperion - The Black Flame God

Aiolia - Oaah!

Page 26

Aiolia - Lightning Bolt. It was you who taught me.

Page 27

Hyperion - courage is to stand up for those I trust ... and not for the one who simply made me wake up. I owe it to you ... Aiolia.

Page 28

Hyperion - that now, my strength be yours and with it you protect the future, .. of my people and my king ...
