

Best Chapel Street Restaurants in Melbourne

Chapel Street is one of Melbourne's most fashionable strips, with great shopping and bars to be found along its length. But you'll also find some excellent restaurants dotted along the street. From Prahran to South Yarra, these are the best places to eat along Chapel Street.

Chapel Street is home to some of the best eats in town, and we've tried them all so you don't have to. If you can think of a cuisine, we've got a restaurant for it. Vietnamese, Middle Eastern, modern Australian – you name it, we've got it. And because variety is the spice of life (or something like that), our list features restaurants for all occasions.

The Lucas Group has moved in with Hawker Hall. Pidapipo Gelato has set up shop. Pino Russo (La Svolta) has opened a second pizza joint. But if anyone can lay claim to reviving the compact block between High Street and Dandenong Road, it's the boys behind Hanoi Hannah and Tokyo Tina.

Here's everything great that's happened on Chapel Street lately – including some new restaurants you definitely don't want to miss! So whether you're looking for an amazing Italian meal, some delicious gelato or just want to know what's good on Chapel Street, we've got you covered. Enjoy!
