Services

1.Eco-Smokers health check (50 tests)

If you're a current or former smoker, tobacco has taken a toll on your body.

If you smoke, you are causing harm to your body. Smokers are more likely to develop a variety of life-threatening conditions, ranging from cancer and lung disease to heart disease and diabetes. Tobacco Because women have smaller lungs than men, smoking is more harmful to them. Quitting smoking is your best bet.

However, until you've set a quit date, you'll need to have more screenings and lab tests than nonsmokers. The Eco-smokers package is ideal for assessing your lung health as well as the status of other organs that may be affected by smoking, as well as ruling out diabetes and heart disease, which are common in chronic smokers.

2. Eco-Pre-marital health check for women (43+ tests)

10.Treadmill Stress Test

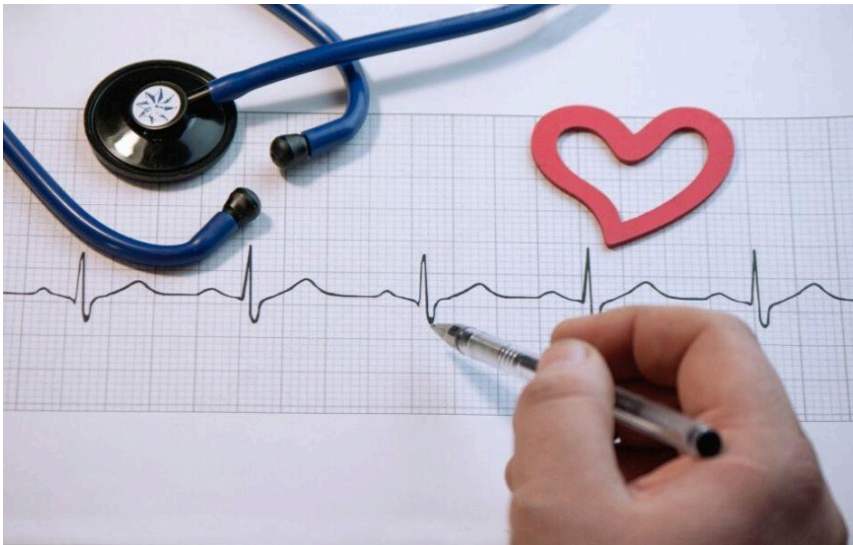

What is a treadmill stress test ?

A Treadmill Stress Test measures your heart rhythm when the heart is stressed by exercise, such as walking or running on a treadmill.

Why is a treadmill test done?

The test looks for any changes in the rhythm of your heart while you are walking on a treadmill; changes might indicate that there may be problems with the heart's rhythm or blood supply as these problems may only be seen while you are exercising.

11.Echocardiography

Echocardiography is a test that uses sound waves to produce live images of your heart. The image is an echocardiogram. This test allows your doctor to monitor how your heart and its valves are functioning. The images can help them spot:

- blood clots in the heart
- fluid in the sac around the heart
- problems with the aorta, which is the main artery connected to the heart

An echocardiogram is key in determining the health of the heart muscle, especially after a heart attack. It can also reveal heart defects in unborn babies.

Taking an echocardiogram is painless. There are only risks in very rare cases with certain types of echocardiograms.
