

Children's rooms in a modern style

A family of four came to our studio and were looking for an interior designer for children's rooms. It was necessary to complete the project in a modern style with bright color accents. In the design of children's rooms, it is required to find a reflection of family values, hobbies and make children feel comfortable. Our experts proposed interior design for the room of a boy of preschool age and a girl of school age, which took into account all the needs of customers.

Soft and delicate interior for a girl's room

An interior design in whitened pink and purple shades was chosen for the girl's room. These colors reflect the softness and tenderness of the young housewife. The girl has many books and toys, for which there are cabinets with facades in the color of a laminate laid on the floor. On one of the walls there is a place for numerous drawings of the girl, for whom art is a favorite hobby.

The bed, shelves and the chair are made in delicate pink, white and purple. The contrast on this background is a turquoise work chair, a soft pillow on the bed and a wall behind the bed. Combined curtains are made of two stripes of pink and turquoise material in the basic concept of the project.

Children's room for the boy

As part of the interior design project for a child's boy, a yellow-black color theme was chosen: soft, but not without dynamics. A child of preschool age and the main activity for him is a game. For this reason, an original playhouse was proposed, which will become the center of the active life of the baby. To develop strength, a sports corner was established next to him. The game house was placed on the second tier, under it there was a place for the working area, where the child will be engaged in creativity and preparation for school.

For furniture, a combination of yellow, white and black was chosen. We installed roomy cabinets for a large number of toys. The room's dynamic and playful character is emphasized by original in a modern style, paintings on the wall and a geometric rug. Interior decorators in Hyderabad

Customers praised the interior design services and asked to complete the bathroom project. The main theme in the design was the sea. It was proposed to print a large panel of glass with a seascape, and the designers intensified the natural effect with decorative elements and flowers on the window. Clients liked the modern solution in the style of the SPA-salon, they decided in the near future to order a design project for the rest of the rooms of their house.
