Choosing a new kitchen can be a very important decision for any homeowner, and you have so much to consider. One thing that is commonly overlooked is the kitchen suppliers of your kitchen. Here at Work-tops, we pride ourselves on procuring stones from the most trusted suppliers from the best and most renowned quarries of the world, as well as having the best team of kitchen fabricators who have years worth of experience and craftsmanship. In this blog, we have outlined some of the key points we think should be considered when choosing a kitchen supplier and how Work-tops is the best kitchen supplier for you.

Quality Kitchen Material

The quality of the stones or any other material you choose for your new kitchen should be taken into account. A gorgeous new kitchen that disintegrates after a year is not what you want. In many situations, it may be worthwhile to spend more now in order to secure longevity. It's crucial to avoid skipping out on the crucial task. Handles are so frequently disregarded, but inferior handles will tarnish and wear out far more quickly than superior ones. Your kitchen will be more durable if you purchase high-quality material the first time. Since spills and drops will happen, it's crucial that your kitchen not only looks fantastic but can also withstand regular use without seeming worn out.

It's simple to cut corners when it comes to quality when purchasing a new kitchen, but doing so may wind up costing you more in the long term.

But at Work-tops you are guaranteed quality tested kitchen worktop materials from the most renowned stone suppliers from around the world. So, reason no.1 why you should choose Work-tops as your kitchen suppliers.

Quick Kitchen Installation Time

A good kitchen supplier must value the time of the homeowners too. It would not be nice if you order a kitchen and stay waiting for up to months with a half-done process. So, taking into consideration the problems faced by homeowners, Work-tops aims to complete basic kitchen work-top within 10 days or less, from the template to the installation step. We have had multiple homeowners reach out to us for quick completion of their projects and believe me, that's the best feeling.

Hence, another reason why you should choose Work-tops as your kitchen suppliers.

Affordable Kitchen Installation

Money is a significant factor in many of your life's crucial decisions, so it's critical to establish a budget beforehand. Designing your ideal kitchen just to find out you are highly exceeding your budget can be disheartening. Thus, planning your budget from the start will help you steer clear of disappointment down the road. You should also think about what you are prepared to spend extra money on.

Basic kitchen worktop installation at Work-tops.com are covered within £1800 including VAT and transport charges, so reason no.2 why you should choose Work-tops as your kitchen suppliers.

Stock Availability for Kitchen

Since the global pandemic, a lot has improved, but the sad fact remains that supplier chain problems are still a significant part of daily life. This also applies to kitchen providers. More than ever, it is crucial to find out about your providers' lead times and availability while comparing your options and suppliers. You don't want to design your kitchen just to learn that only half of it will arrive this month from your suppliers.

Work-tops has 30+ registered permanent suppliers from various regions of the world. So, if not one, somebody or the other will definitely have the material of your choice (exceptional cases exist).

Yet another reason why you should choose Work-tops as your kitchen suppliers.
