

Japan To Resume Visa-Free Entry For Individual Travellers On October 11

Tokyo [Japan]: Japan will resume visa-loose access for character travellers on October eleven, Prime Minister Fumio Kishida introduced Thursday in New York, media reports said.

For the first time in about two and a half years, Japan sets out border guidelines near pre-pandemic norms, suggesting Nikkei Asia. “We will do away with the cap on the number of humans entering the country and could resume accepting the individual tour and visa-free journeys,” Kishida said. In an attempt to manipulate the spread of COVID-19, Japan currently simplest permits bundle excursions and requires visas for all visitors together with a cap of 50,000 on everyday arrivals.

However, due to those curbs, Japan’s economic system is not able to be fully reopened to travellers. Now, starting October eleven, brief-term visitors will not be required to apply for vacationer visas. Read More...
