

Why is Health insurance important?

Health insurance has been a highly talked about topic, but the pandemic has opened our eyes to the unpredictability of medical exigencies. This has now emphasized the importance of buying health insurance for people who don't have it already.