

Airport Andorra. How to get to Andorra

The Principality of Andorra is located in a valley in the mid-Pyrenees and consequently has neither an airport nor a railway. The only way to enter and leave Andorra is by automotive transport. One may enter Andorra via either the border with Spain or France.

Airport. The nearest international airports are located in Barcelona (Prat) and in Toulouse (Blagnac), each about 200 km away from Andorra. Look here for the full list of the countries and cities with the cheapest regular flights available with Catalan low cost air company Vueling

The airport in La Seu d'Urgell, Spain, is located 10 km to the south of Andorra. The airport was opened for commercial flights at the beginning of 2015. In April 2016 the Spanish company Andorra Airlines launched regular flights from the airport Andorra-la Seu d'Urgell to Madrid, Porto, Palma de Mallorca and Paris. Now the airport is still in a process to get a license to become an international airport.

Bus. After you landed in Barcelona or Toulouse it takes approximately 3 hours to get to Andorra from either Barcelona or Toulouse airport by bus. Look here for all routes and prices

Helicopter. There are also plans to build a heliport in Andorra for helicopter communication with Spain. The expected date of opening is 2018. At the moment you can rent a commercial helicopter transfer from Barcelona or Toulouse to Andorra (La Massana). It takes approximately 30 minutes flying time from Andorra to the airport "Prat" in Barcelona. Look here for prices

Railway. The nearest railway station to Andorra is L'Hospitalet-de-pres-D'Andorra, which is located in France, 10 km to the east of Andorra. Train service to Toulouse and Paris by TGV is available, as well as a variety of other destinations in France and beyond by regular train. The nearest train station in Spain is located in Lleida, about 2 hours from Andorra, where high speed direct train services to Madrid are available by RENFE, as well as regular services to various Spanish cities. Look here for details

Road system. The total length of roads in Andorra is about 280 km. Two main roads go out from the capital Andorra la Vella: CG1 leads to the border with Spain and CG2 leads to the border with France via the tunnel Envalira near Pas de la Casa. In winter the major roads are quickly cleared of snow and are completely passable; however, the road from Andorra to France (RN-20-22) is sometimes closed because of avalanche risks. When there is a prediction of high snowfall, it is preferable to enter or leave Andorra through Spanish border. Look here for the best road links with Spain

Taxi service. All taxi companies in Andorra: Asociación de Taxis de Andorra( +376 863 000), Taxi Express (+376 812 345), Más Taxi (+376 828 000), Taxi Ferran (+376 678 078), Taxis Silvestre (+376 605 050). Taxi tariffs and parkings can be found here

Car rent. The best option to get from Barcelona to Andorra and for traveling around Andorra is to rent a car. That will ensure your freedom of mobility and will allow avoiding the problems related to wait for a taxi. One may rent a car either in Spain or France (at the airport or at a rental agency) or in Andorra, but that will cost a bit more. The fuel prices in Andorra are the cheapest in Western Europe according to British "Post office". Look here for details

The shortest road distances from Andorra la Vella:

To Paris – 861 km (way-time 9.5 hours)

To Toulouse – 186 km (way-time 2.5 hours)

To Biarritz – 407 km (way-time 5 hours)

To Nice – 619 km (way-time 7 hours)

To Marcel – 534 km (way-time 6 hours)

To Madrid – 612 km (way-time 7 hours)

To Barcelona – 198 km (way-time 2.5 hours)

To Lisbon – 1239 km (way-time 15 hours)

To Gibraltar – 1219 km (way-time 14 hours)

Andorra la Vella – Moscow – 3729 km (way-time 1 day 12 hours)