

5 questions to ask before hiring a bridal makeup artist

Just got started with the preparations for your wedding?

Are you still confused or having doubts about hiring a bridal make-up artist?

Okay! So let me take away all your doubts and questions that you are having before you hire a makeup artist for your big day.

As you have already started to look for the makeup artist or you might have also found one of your choices. But when it comes to finalizing the makeup artists you might face some difficulties because you are not aware of the questions that you should ask before finalizing him/her.

In this blog I am mentioning the top five questions that you should ask before you hire a makeup artist for your wedding:

- Question about their working pattern: Ask them about their team members. Who is going to do the hairstyling, who will do the makeup or is the makeup artist able to all these by themselves? Also, ask them about the types and what products will they use on your skin. Ask them about the details like how much time will they take to get you ready completely, will they allow to shoot during the makeup session. These simple questions will help you to clear the basic doubts that you have. You can also tell them about your skin type so that they can select the products that they are going to use according to your skin type.

- What all they include: the next question that you can ask is about the services that they will provide according to your budget. A general package includes hairstyling, nail paints, draping, eyelashes, and shampoo (if you are at their saloon) and of course the bridal makeup. If they do not include any of the basic things or services then you should look for another makeup artists because if you still go for the same makeup artist then you will have to get another help or assistance from somebody else too and that might create a fuss for you. So it is better to book a single makeup artist that provides all the services.
- Do they have other bookings on the same day: Before you finalize the makeup artist do not forget to ask if they have other bookings on the same day as your wedding? Asking this question is very important because if they have another booking on the same day then you need to plan accordingly.
- Services for your family members: when you book makeup artist, then you must ask them if they can provide their services to you family members or not? Make sure you clear this point before booking to avoid any misunderstanding on the wedding day. But I would suggest you should book a different makeup artist for your family members so that you are your makeup artist have plenty of time in your hands.
- Can they assist you for a destination wedding: Imagine you are having your destination wedding somewhere in Jaipur but the makeup artist that you finalized does not provide services out of Delhi, So be careful to mention and ask the makeup artist whether they can assist you for a destination wedding or not.

You can book/hire makeup artists online through StarClinch, India's largest platform to book artists.