

Advertisers who practice diversity have the power to change the world | AdAge

A whole generation of kids who don't fit into the traditional mold deserve to see themselves acknowledged as an important part of brands' stories.

<https://mymarketingfile.com/post/186233255268>