Haus Hooga

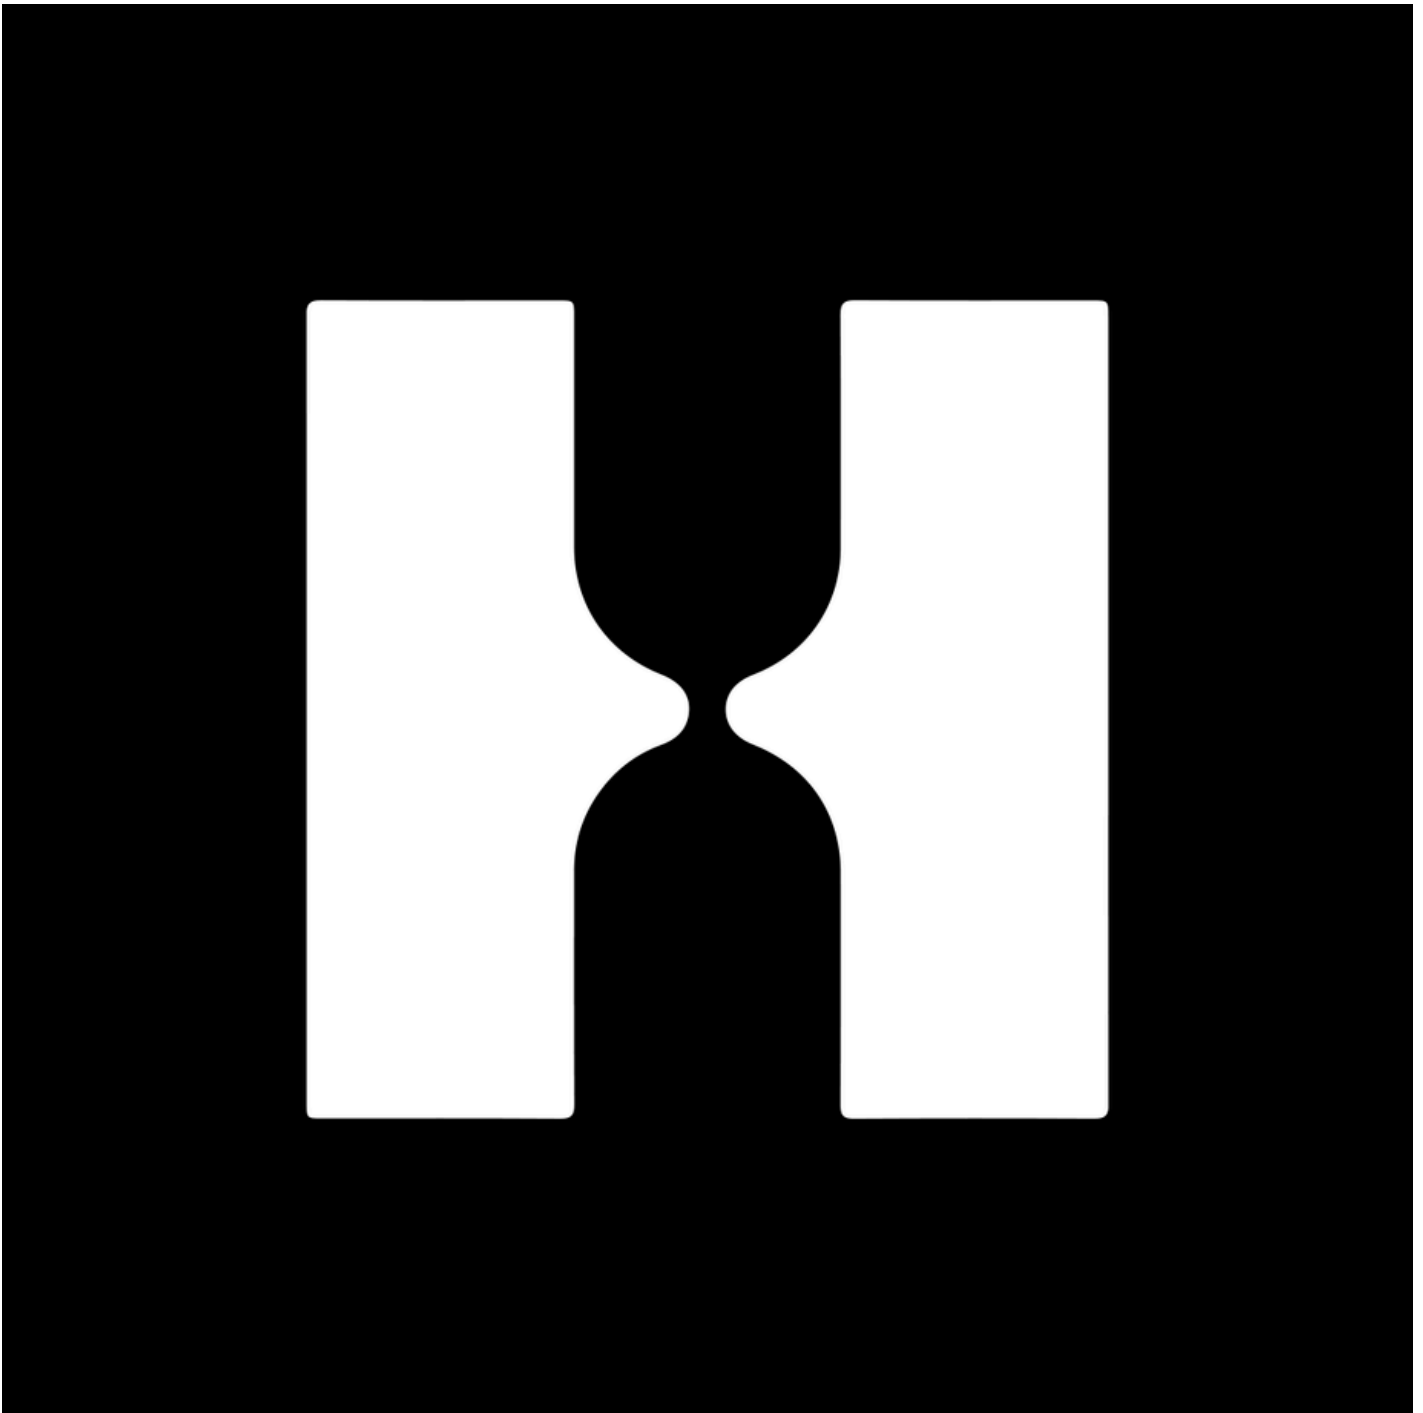

Haushooga was started in a little Scandinavian apartment to create the coziness of home away from home. The company was empowered by people through crowdfunding. They want to be one of the best online home decor stores. They want to offer customers quality, minimalist designs at reasonable prices. They aim to grow and create a community of people who believe in taking a moment for themselves in an environment that's built for comfort and coziness by purchasing the right home decor products.

Their inspiration is parents, who are first time buyers of new home decor, and their designs embody this spirit. Their creation of homes offers safety and warmth whenever you need it. The company's ultimate motto is to inspire its customers to take some time for themselves and be proud of the home they have created for themselves.