HOW DO WE DO IT?

As you read this, billions of individuals from all over the world are exchanging business-related information via the internet on thousands of different platforms. Purchases, swaps, and even customer reviews are all possible. Even online enquiries about your company are not restricted to a single search or review engine. Renesent has developed an algorithm that eliminates the need to scavenge for scattered technological information. We enable you to operate your business more effectively, and we provide quick access to how the internet perceives your operation online by compiling information onto a single dashboard that displays several key search engines and review sites. The aforementioned algorithm employs Geo Tracking to analyse and discover unfavourable or inconsistent reviews relevant to your business, which is one of our most popular, effective, and cost-efficient add-ons available with our monthly dashboard subscription.
