

Rugged Military Displays and Video Surveillance Systems | B2KHolding

Every military platform requires mission computers because they provide human users, such as pilots and commanders, with the tools and situational awareness they need to make informed and timely decisions. Previously, these Rugged Military Displays were adapted with custom hardware and software to do certain functions. More information about visit us:

<https://medium.com/@b2kholdings/next-generation-rugged-military-displays-and-video-surveillance-systems-b2kholding-add4aa590234>