

How Effective Is PDO Eyebrow Lift?

Have you ever observed how as people age, their skin appears to get drier and looser? You are not hallucinating. In actuality, your skin will lose around 80% of its thickness by the time you're 70 years old. This explains why your brows frequently start to droop and sag. Anyone can never choose to have flat eyebrows. People are obsessed with having gorgeous, raised eyebrows because they establish the fashion. But is there a risk-free method for treating drooping brows? Well, there is. PDO Eyebrow Lift provided by Dr Khans Beauty Clinic, London, is the solution for your drooping eyebrows that you have been searching for years. This treatment is commonly referred to as PDO Thread Lift for brows. PDO Thread is used to treat sagging brows, allowing you to achieve lifted, sag-free brows without the pain of invasive surgery.

Not familiar with it? Keep reading to know more about it.

What is PDO Thread Lift?

In simple words, a PDO thread lift, as its name suggests, is anti-aging therapy that tightens and lifts your skin without the need for an invasive medical procedure. This treatment has the extra advantage of encouraging cellular regeneration and neovascularization by using threads comprised of absorbable polydioxanone (PDO). A specific "threading wire" is used in thread lifts to support the skin. Because local anaesthetic is used, one of the best things about a thread lift is that it's not a strenuous operation that leaves you in a lot of pain. Additionally, this meeting is rather brief, typically lasting around two hours. This implies that you can visit without having to stay all day. Your facial skin can be lifted and tightened without surgery thanks to the polydioxanone (PDO) threads used by our qualified experts.

PDO Eyebrow Lift cures sagging eyebrows without side effects by using these threads.

How Does PDO Eyebrow Lift Perform?

Our skilled and licensed aesthetician marks the treated region of the brows during the operation. During the course of the procedure, an anesthetic is given to dull any pain or discomfort. Using a sharp or blunt tip cannula or needles, PDO threads are introduced into the layers of skin surrounding the eyebrows. The threads are lifted after being injected and anchored in the skin layers, producing an effective brow lift and tightened skin. The cannula or needles are withdrawn after the treatment is finished, and any extra threads are cut off. Since PDO threads are formed of collagen, they eventually disintegrate, often after six months. Nevertheless, depending on the patient's age, skin condition, and the aesthetician's experience, the treatment result might continue for a longer time. This PDO Eyebrow Lift should be easy for a skilled aesthetician to complete without any significant pain or issues.

Effectiveness Of This Treatment

This procedure provides countless effective outcomes. Many aesthetic professionals across the world, including our professionals, recognize its efficacy. This therapy is one of the most successful in the history of aesthetic procedures due to its successful and advantageous outcomes. Take a look at the examples below to see how effective this treatment is.

1. Elevated and Structured Eyebrows

By slightly pulling the skin back, this provides the effect of raising and tightening the face. By triggering the body's "healing responses" and sending ample quantities of collagen to the treated areas, threads are effective for lifting the skin and also serve to slow down the ageing process. This is important since collagen is necessary for the ageing process.

2. Refreshed and Rejuvenated Eyebrows

Collagen serves as a support for the "growth factors" that have a significant effect on the health of our skin. In addition to preserving our skin's strength, volume, and softness, collagen helps wounds heal. Injecting fresh collagen into the face's skin when skin laxity symptoms are still mild will assist to both minimize looseness (by thickening and hydrating the skin) and prevent it from getting worse (by strengthening the skin). PDO Eyebrow Lift helps achieve renewed brows in this way.

Get Our PDO Eyebrow Lift

Say hello to raised, structured eyebrows with the best ever PDO Eyebrow Lift treatment by Dr Khans Beauty Clinic, London. Our experts offer this treatment within affordable packages and ensure impressive results within a short period of time. Book us today. For more details, please contact us.