

Provide Unmatched IT Solutions to Clients across the Globe

The IT industry is an increasingly competitive one, both in terms of securing good clients and retaining top talent. Atharva System continues to achieve its vision to deliver web-based solutions for businesses that seek the best applications for maintaining a competitive edge in the evolving global marketplace.

Atharva System recently started new departments for Magento and Odoo. Within just one and a half years of its inception, the company has 25 gifted developers. The company continues to add more resources for these technologies to best serve clients across the globe.

Currently, Atharva is working as a development team for one of the leading software in the healthcare and insurance domain. The team developed a solution for HME providers Conduit Technology, LLC. Brightree had recently acquired Conduit Technology, LLC.

Atharva also recently developed an app for shift management. This elegant and efficient "duty roster" app was launched for both iOS and Android for Hlth.care. It is primarily directed at the nursing staff, helping users manage shifts and communicate with each other. Helpful & practical features such as shift exchange are also included.

Within the Odoo domain, the company has the most experienced team, well-versed in CMS and eCommerce theme design and development. Atharva System provides a comprehensive solution for the popular Odoo platform. Services range from Odoo consultancy, implementation, and customization to support, theme design & development, and custom module development. This makes Atharva among the most experienced and top sellers of Odoo CMS and e-commerce theme design and development company in India.

It is important to note here that while delivering intuitive, powerful, and efficient applications on one end, Atharva System is also active on the digital marketing front. The company also provides search engine optimization (SEO) services, complementing its core development services. This goes to show how Atharva is in tune with the needs of its clients; online visibility and digital marketing remains one of the top concerns for businesses across industries. As Atharva System continues to deliver world-class solutions to global clients, the company is eyeing strategic business partnerships in Europe and the USA. The spokesperson further remarked, "Atharva has a global footprint. It is trusted by clients across Europe and the US. And we're well on our way to expand our operations and build more partnerships on an international level."
