JDownloader

JDownloader is a free download manager with the help of which, you will be able to download the files from various websites quite easily. As a result, you will not have to worry about downloading websites from sites like Mega or Rapidhsare.
JDownloader helps you in automating the entire download process. Whether it is the captcha or the download waiting time, all of that can be handled with the help of this software. Moreover, you can easily pause and resume the download section. There is an added advantage of being able to schedule the transfers as well.

The only bit of issue which you can find is that the downloading of JDownloader itself is not that straightforward. It is hosted on Mega and you can download it in the form of RAR file. The only bit of issue is that Mega will try to make you install its own download software as well. You need to also make sure that you are unchecking the installation of Avast Antivirus tool during the installation of the download tool. Apart from that, it is a good tool to have handy.

User experience:
Owing to a large number of features in this downloading tool, it can be a bit overwhelming when you use it the 1st time around. However, there are quite a few useful features like the clipboard monitor. With the help of this feature, you have file-sharing site link, it will be added to the programme automatically. As a result, you can easily add multiple file downloading URLs to the software. You can download them in bulk with the help of a single click with the help of this downloading program.

JDownloader can help you in saving a lot of time by automating various such tasks. There is also a remote access option which ensures that you will be able to monitor the progress of your downloads even when you're away from your computer. This ensures that you are able to constantly monitor the downloads without any issues at all.

Owing to the automation features which are on offer, JDownloader is a good choice when you're looking for a download manager. If you're looking for a download manager which can help you deal with each and every aspect of downloading the files, you should definitely go with this one as it helps you gain complete control over the files which you are downloading.
