

Inclusive Urbanism: Gender Equality NGOs Pioneering Change

Gender equality NGOs are at the forefront of a movement towards inclusive urbanism, challenging traditional notions of urban planning and development and advocating for approaches that prioritize equity, diversity, and inclusion. These organizations recognize that cities are inherently diverse and that planning processes must reflect and accommodate the needs and aspirations of all residents.

