Help users Find their Dating partners with a Dating app like Tinder

Hey there! The technological advancements has found to be infinite as it revolutionizes our daily lives. In that order, finding one's partner has become simple with an App like Tinder. Dating apps like Tinder lists a number of features that will help its users find their preferred partner. The Tinder app was found to be welcoming among users and is one of the most downloaded dating apps. The app's quick reach inspired many business persons to invest in developing their dating apps.

You too can build an app like Tinder with Appdupe's white-labeled clone solutions. Let us have a glimpse of the features available in the dating app.

Virtual geo-location- The app helps users to find their partners over the horizon. Yes, users can enter a virtual location and seek partners in that location.

Distance based matches- Users can restrict the location of their matches by entering the particular location in which they want their matches to be.

Age-based matches- Users can apply the age filter before finding matches.

Other supporting features of the application includes chat options, like, super like and reject options.

Some of the paid add-ons of our dating app clone script:

- Promo codes- Bring more users to your dating app by allowing existing users to invite new users to the app. If the users successfully bring in new users, offer them with promo codes.
- Bitcoin wallet integration- Integrate the facility for bitcoin exchange into your app and allow users to exchange bitcoins with other users.
- One way liking module- This feature allows users to chat with profiles they like or super like.

Conclusion

I hope that the Tinder clone will align with your business goals. Take advantage of the modern times and launch the most popular dating app.