

IRB Process | Alfaisal University

The IRB process at Alfaisal University prioritizes the safety, rights, and welfare of human subjects involved in research projects. It upholds the principles of respect, beneficence, and justice in research involving human participants. The rigorous review and oversight provided by the IRB contribute to the university's commitment to conducting ethical and responsible research.