

Kubo scored the second goal

Real Sociedad won 3-0 against Athletic Club in the eighth round of the Spanish Primera Liga in the 2023/24 season at Reale Arena in Gifucoa, Spain, on the 1st (Korea time).

Real Sociedad and Athletic Club are rivals. The match between the two teams is called the Basque Derby. As it was a rivalry game, a fierce game was expected. But when I opened the lid, Real Sociedad was overwhelmed.

Real Sociedad scored the first goal in the 30th minute of the first half. In a free-kick situation, Le Normand opened the door with a volley shot, taking advantage of the opponent's defender's mistake.

Kubo scored the second goal. In the third minute of the second half, he finished a low cross from the left side with a left-footed shot and shook the Athletic Club net.

In the 21st minute of the second half, Oyarsabal ended the game. Oyarsabal dug into the back space of the defender and got a pass to beat the goalkeeper to score. The game ended with a 3-0 victory for Real Sociedad.

Kubo's ceremony drew attention after the game. Kubo was running after scoring and grabbed his thigh as if his hamstring had come up. Soon after, he showed "Twalking," which smiled and shook his buttocks. He was not injured, but he pretended to be sick for a fun ceremony.

The ceremony has recently become famous in the sports world as several players have performed it. According to the soccer media 'Goal Dotcom', NFL (National Women's Soccer League) star player Travis Kelce performed the ceremony, and the U.S. NWSL (National Women's Soccer League) Lavonta also celebrated the goal with the ceremony.

Fans showed various reactions to Kubo's ceremony, such as "shocking" and "a ceremony against the rival, I love you completely."
