

Best UPSC Coaching in Bangalore

For Prelims

- Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Sites and Remains Act, 1958:
- The AMASR Act provides for preservation of ancient and historical monuments and archaeological sites and remains of national importance.
- The Archaeological Survey of India functions under the provisions of this act.
- The central government can extend the prohibited area beyond 100 meters.
- Section 20 of the 'Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Sites and Remains' Act:
- The Act prohibits construction in 'prohibited area', an area of 100 meters around protected monument.
- It does not permit construction in such prohibited areas even if it is for public purposes, except under certain conditions.

