

Why positive attitude is important in life ?

What Is Attitude ?

Inclination towards a person, thing, idea and feeling. Whether it is a positive or a negative emotion, it is called Attitude. For example, I do not like girls who do business at all. This example shows the negative attitude of a man towards women. Now let us take an example of positive attitude like I love girls who are financially independent and contribute to the economy of the country. Simply put, Attitude is the likes and dislikes of people.

Can Attitude be changed?

The attitude of the society or community living in one country towards another country or towards anything can be changed. If we take the example of the soft power of America, the attitude of the people living in all the countries of the world has changed their attitude towards America because of the soft power of America. Today, citizens living in most countries of the world follow the culture of America.

The main reason for people's positive attitude towards America is American universities. These are world class universities. Such as Stanford University, Harvard University, Yale University, Brown University, Boston University, University of California etc. That's how American pop culture is very famous. He has left a deep impact on the hearts of the people.

READ MORE