Master of Supply Chain Data Analytics

Supply chain data analytics tools from KenGrid to get touchable results with customers, partners, and the entire chain process. Make decisions with near real time reports from current data and drive continuous improvements throughout the whole supply. We can help you to reduce manual data manipulation work by up to 98% as well as Simulate all possibilities before decision making. For more information visit our website or you can call us @ +31651670396!