KEYCHAINS— One of the most undervalued objects turns out to be a bundle of sentiments for many people. Many times it is obtained as a souvenir from a memorable trip or received as a gift to seal a memory. But quite often we forget that it is one of the most used day-to-day items. Keys are all around us, and keychains not only keep them safe but also make them appealing and easy to locate. Everyone needs a keychain to keep their keys handy. While it seems like a casual thing, many people religiously collect different types of keychains. Known as copoclephily, it is a Greek word made of Kope (handle), Kleis (key) & Phile (one who is attracted to).

In the world of gifting, personalized gifts are now seen as the best form to express your love in a more meaningful way. Rather than picking a random gifting article, people now prefer to opt for a personalized gift that the giver and receiver both can connect in a certain way. Personalized gifts show the efforts and importance the receivers hold in the giver's heart. While the list of possible personalized gifts is endless, ever wondered what tops the list! Yes, you guessed it right- PERSONALIZED KEYCHAINS.
