

What to consider before choosing an angel investor for your business?

An angel investor is an individual who finances a new or small business investment, giving equity to a start-up. Angel investors are generally individuals who are looking for a higher rate of return than what would be given by traditional investments. An angel investor typically looks for a return of around 25 to 60 percent.

What to consider before choosing an angel investor for your business?