

Secondary School in India: Should I Resist Studying in Pandemic?

When it's time for education, masks, sanitizer, social distancing should not be the barrier. This demises the hunger for knowledge for the learners. Students in secondary school in India are the utmost victim to this issue.

Students in secondary schools, who are about to pursue their boards are in the most critical situation now. Their future is at a stake due to our present ruling epidemic. To secure those innocent lives, we should choose their secondary school wisely.

How to Choose a Secondary School in India?

Several variant aspects should be noted while choosing a secondary school. We should look after the following:

- Safety – First and foremost thing that should be taken into consideration is safety. We should probe the career prospects for the system to go offline. Proper sanitization, maintenance, and aids should be the first point of your priority list.
- Internet Facility- Keeping in mind the present situation, we should draw our second priority. It includes the school to seek a proper online facility that can penetrate your home to have online classes.
- Rules – The chosen school should follow the rules and protocols made by the government. They should not infringe according to their rule book.
- Security- Before choosing a proper institute for your ward in a pandemic, you should check the school's affiliation. In the present situation, a proper school is needed to pertain your education with the future.

So, to choose a secondary school during the pandemic, you should follow the above. Groom your child safely in a pandemic as well.