

5 Important Tips For Choosing Healthy Dog Food For Puppies

Puppies are adorable. They are little goofballs full of energy and warmth, and if you're a newly turned pet parent, we should let you know that they grow up way too fast.

The growth stage of a puppy lasts for about 2 years while puppyhood is at its peak around the 5th to the 7th month. And just like any newborn baby, they need the right amount of nutrients, protein, and fat to strengthen their bones, body, and mind, helping them grow into a healthy and happy dogs.
